Cannot Become Great Commercial Nation Until We Export Manufactures, Not Raw Material

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 18.—

A short time ago an American firm was awarded a contract worth nearly $5,000,000 for the building of port works at Asuncion, Paraguay. Ten years ago an English or a French company would in all probability have done the work. The incident is one of many current indications that the United States is gaining a business foothold in Latin America.

Can We Hold It?

We have undoubtedly won a place in Latin-American trade. Now another question arises. Can we hold this business when the European war is over, and the great industrial nations of that continent re-enter the market?

This is a question of the utmost importance to the commercial future of the United States. The Latin-American trade means far more to us than an opportunity for the individual to make money. It is a national opportunity for the United States to take her place as one of the foremost commercial nations of the world.

The average American citizen, full of copy-book patriotism, is apt to exclaim that we are already that, and he will point to the immense value of our exports as conclusive proof. As a matter of fact we are just beginning to be a first rate force in international trade. Before the beginning of the European war, a large proportion of our exports were raw material or partly manufactured goods. Now, it is a fundamental principle of international trade that the more highly manufactured the goods exported, the more value they represent to the producing nation; and the most efficient and powerful nation is the one which most completely manufactures all of its products. Thus a ton of iron ore shipped out of the United States means that this country is being paid a profit only on the operation of mining it, and that the far greater profit upon making it into machinery will be earned by another nation. On the other hand, every sewing machine that we export means that we have made every possible penny of profit out of the few pounds of material that we have put into it.

Not only miners, but steel mill workers, skilled mechanics, wood workers, finishers, painters, have all been paid by foreign countries for the making of that machine, and only a few pounds of raw material have been sold.

Must Manufacture

In a word, to become a first-class industrial power, we must learn to manufacture all of our goods to the highest possible degree. The immense quantities of cotton, wool, lumber and naval stores which we annually export are a national waste to us, and money in the pockets of our competitors.

Before we can attain to this highly organized and profitable condition we must have a market for our manufactures. Necessarily the greater part of this market will be in less highly organized countries, and of these, Latin-America is the nearest, greatest and wealthiest. Latin-America is our natural and rightful field in which to achieve our destiny in international trade, and the European war has given us an unparalleled opportunity to enter it.

Statistics tell only a part of the story. In the Argentine, which is

BEGS OF SHERIFF
GETS THIRTY DAYS

John Moore, 33, Cleveland, Ohio, walked up State street this morning looking for someone from whom to beg the "price" of a meal. Sheriff Geo. A. Ritter walked out of the court house. Moore sidled up to him. "I'm hungry. Got a dime?" he asked.

"I think I can get you a meal," the sheriff said.

Ritter took Moore to visit the county court, and Judge John Brindley sent him to county jail for thirty days.

AIDE OF VON PAPEN
ARRESTED CHARGED WITH BOMB PLOTS

Secretary of Recalled German Military Attache Is Taken After Hard Fight in New York Offices

CLAIM HE WAS A GO BETWEEN

State Department Sanctions Indictment After Considering Delicate Points Involved

NEW YORK, April 18.—Wolf von Igle, secretary to Captain Franz von Papen, recalled German military attache, was arrested in his office at 60 Wall street by agents of the department of justice today after a lively fight. Four special agents overpowered von Igle, when he attempted to get away.

Von Igle was indicted yesterday with von Papen, Captain Hans Tauscher, husband of Mme Gadske, and others in connection with the attempt to blow up the Welland canal and put bombs upon allied ships. His name was kept secret until today, however.

Agents of the justice department called at his office yesterday, but it was said he was out of town. Returning today they found von Igle, who at first refused to admit Joe Baker, assistant to William Offley, head of the department's investigating bureau and his three deputies.

Baker finally convinced him they were coming in, forcibly if necessary, and the door was opened. Von Igle hurried to the safe as Baker and his men entered, slammed the door shut and threw on the combination, locking it. Von Igle declared he would not surrender embassy papers and failing to secure documents he expected to take from the safe, Baker ordered von Igle to come with him.

Von Igle endeavored to escape. Before he had gone far toward the door Baker and his three assistants were upon him. They struggled about the office, overturning furniture but the department agents soon gained the upper hand and marched the secretary away.

Protests Arrest

When taken before Federal Judge Howe, Von Igle refused to plead to the indictment. He declared he was not represented by counsel and also that the government had no right to arrest him as he was connected with the German embassy. He protested against the seizure of his papers in his Wall street office, saying that was ambassadorial territory and inviolate.

Judge Howe advised Von Igle to procure counsel at once. He adjourned the hearing until 4 p. m., that the prisoner might get a lawyer and told him his rights would be safeguarded.

Fifth Indictment

WASHINGTON, April 18.—Wolf von Igle, arrested today in New York, was the fifth man indicted in the Welland canal plot case in New York.

Von Igle is handling Captain Von Papen's affairs in this country. Listed among the "affairs" the United States will claim, was the handling of the loose ends of the plot to blow up the belligerent merchantmen. Von Igle, it is charged, has handled personally all of the Captain Von Papen's correspondence in the alleged plot. He has been the go-between, the department claims, in every important activity with which Von Papen has been connected.

The state department gave its consent to the indictment of Von Papen, it was understood today. The state department view is understood to have been taken after consideration of the delicate points involved.

The principal question was whether as Captain Von Papen was immune from prosecution while he was in this country, he would not also be immune from future prosecution for acts committed during his stay here. The state department decided the immunity covered only his stay in this country.

The indictment will remain inoperative and probably would not be acted on, even if Von Papen came back to the United States. But it will permit greater freedom by the government in prosecution of cases in which Von Papen is alleged to have had a hand.

CHURCH CAMPAIGN WILL RESULT IN CITY FEDERATION

Representatives of Eleven Churches Endorse Plan at Noon-day Meeting Today

WILL ORGANIZE ON MAY 2

Aged and Infirm Persons Will Be Carried to Church in Autos on Easter Sunday

Out of the "Go To Church" advertising campaign is to grow a city church federation. This was the unanimous decision of representatives of eleven churches at the last noon-day luncheon of the associated churches which have staged the big campaign, held in the Y. M. C. A. today. A poll of the thirty-odd pastors and laymen assembled for the luncheon elicited expressions of approval from every one, and there was no opposing vote to the proposal to submit the question to the respective churches.

Accordingly, the organization meeting for the federation was set for May 2—two weeks from today.

According to the proposed constitution, read by Rev. E. C. Dixon of the First Methodist church, who headed the committee appointed last week to investigate federation, the churches will be members of a central body known as the council of the federated churches, to consist of the pastor and two male laymen from each church. Incidentally, the word "male" was questioned by Mr. Dixon, and it is probable that it may be stricken out before the constitution is adopted.

A provision of the constitution is that any member church may withdraw from any single activity of the federation without severing its connection with the organization as a whole.

Vehicles for Easter

Aged and infirm church people, unable to get to Easter services themselves, will have carriages and automobiles to take them to church, as a result of today's meeting. All of the representatives endorsed the plan when put forward by Dr. H. C. Evenson.

Church members who own cars and carriages will be asked to place them at the disposal of the church for an hour Easter Sunday morning. Those who wish their services are asked to communicate with the pastors of their churches.

That there will be a surplus in the advertising campaign's fund at the conclusion of the eight weeks' activity was reported by Dr. Evenson, of the advertising committee.

TWO MORE DROWN

LOST WEEK AGO

Two Sisters Lost when Frightened Horse Backs Off West Approach to Winona High Bridge

SIX DEATHS WITHIN A WEEK

Croghan Family of Galesville Wiped Out Almost at the Same Spot Where Water Covers Bottoms

High water on the Mississippi has claimed two more lives, close to the place where P. B. Croghan of Galesville and his family were drowned a week ago. Two sisters, Josephine and Theodore Wicorek, 21 and 19 years old respectively, were drowned yesterday when a frightened horse backed off the turnpike leading from the west approach to the Winona bridge.

Met Sister at Winona

The younger girl drove from her home in this village to Winona, Minn., directly opposite, across the river, to meet her sister. When the girls, returning home, reached the turnpike leading from the high wagon bridge across the river, a short distance from the Wisconsin shore, the horse became frightened.

The older girl leaped from the buggy and ran behind it. The frightened horse backed the buggy upon her and she fell into the swift water. In another moment her sister, still in the buggy, was plunged to death in the icy current. The bodies were recovered a short time afterward. The horse also was drowned.

Six Deaths

Including the Croghan family, whose home was near Galesville, six persons have lost their lives by drowning in the flood waters along side this road within a week. The road crosses a three mile expanse of bottom land, which is turned into a wide and treacherous lake whenever the river rises above its normal level. However, the present season is the first when drowning has occurred.

COMMANDERS PLAN
NEW CAMPAIGN TO CATCH WILY VILLA

Report Villa Death Report Manufactured in Juarez Starts Army on New Activity

MAY TAKE BASE TO PRESIDIO

Funston Hopes for Permission to Use Mexican Railroads to End Mexican Campaign

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., April 18.—Basing their belief that the report of Pancho Villa's death had been manufactured at Juarez, on a report of General Bell, submitted to Major General Funston today, army commanders today began a new hunt for the bandit leader.

Early advice to headquarters told of a gathering of scattered American detachments near Satevo. Indications pointed to resumption of the bandit hunt on a scale limited to conform to the present line of communications. This was believed to mean that Funston intended making the best of the facilities at hand, meantime hoping for permission to use the Mexican railways or sanction for a new line with the American base near Presidio, Texas.

Funston was inclined to discredit the reported seizure of a trainload of supplies consigned to the American forces via the Mexican Central railroad. General Bell's dispatch failed to mention the incident. Funston said he would not investigate it without official notification. General Funston made it plain the American forces cannot push any further than Satevo with present line of communications.

The tentative new campaign was expected to call for an expedition into the mountains where Colonel Howze positively asserted Villa had taken refuge.

The fragments of regiments left at Santa Cruz, just north of Parral, were speeding north today to join the forces gathering near Satevo. These troops are reported foraging on their way after facing a serious situation at Santa Cruz owing to lack of food for the animals.

All indications at headquarters pointed to a renewal of the chase without regard for past incidents, notably the Parral affair, under the limitations imposed by the long line of communications.

May Change Tactics

WASHINGTON, April 18.—General Funston, it was said, had not suggested to the war department that he desired to extend his lines southward. In some quarters it was believed that the administration does not desire to proceed on the present trail further, and that the chase may now take a different stand.

No troop movement orders were issued today. If the lines are to be strengthened, Funston could strip present border garrisons of a few men, but he has not sufficient forces wherewith to make any considerable reinforcement.

For this reason, it is possible that the forward march of Pershing's men may be halted.

Requests from General Funston for considerable additional reinforcements and for a better supply system seemed likely; the question, was, though whether the expedition may not be limited to its present territory without avoiding need for such requests.

Twelve Year Old Son of Frank R. Smith of La Crescent Falls Into Mother's Arms Dead

Willie Smith, fourteen year old son of Frank R. Smith, secretary of the Smith Grubber Co., La Crescent didn't know his rifle was loaded when he snapped it at his little brother, Morris, this morning. But it was.

The .22 caliber bullet pierced Morris through the heart, and he fell back dead into the arms of his mother, with whom he was coming down to breakfast.

The accident happened at 7:30 this morning at the Smith residence in La Crescent. Mrs. Smith was bringing the younger son, just past twelve years old, down stairs. Willie was standing in the hall with his gun.

"Look out, there, Morris," called Willie. "You're a Mexican and I'm an American soldier."

He pointed the rifle and pulled the trigger.

Hundred Thousand Germans Mass in Assaults on the French Lines East of the Meuse

FIRST BLOW ON PEPPER HEIGHTS

Teutons Repulsed There But Carry Trenches and Force Surrender of Re-doubt

PARIS, April 18.—German troops from five different divisions, aggregating 100,000 men, participated in a violent attack yesterday against the French lines east of the Meuse, it was officially announced today.

In last night's fighting, the Germans were partially thrown back from a first line trench they penetrated in Chaffour forest, northwest of Douaumont.

The Germans attacked with the greatest violence on a ragged front, extending from the Meuse in a southeasterly direction to the Douaumont-Ornes road. German artillery had prepared the way for the assault by a drum fire that opened at midnight and continued without cessation for twelve hours.

The first blow fell against the French barriers in the narrow ravine southeast of Pepper heights, the scene of furious fighting ten days ago. Time and again the grey clad legions piled up against the French works in fruitless charges. The ravine and its wooded slopes were swept by a steady stream of shrapnel and machine gun fire until the gorge itself was choked with bodies.

Repulsed in this attack, the Germans extended the fighting on both flanks. One division, advancing from Talou heights, moved southward along the west bank of the Meuse but came under a heavy fire that forced an immediate retreat.

The heaviest blow was struck on the eastern wing. Gathering up two divisions, the German commanders hurled them against the French lines in Chaffour and Ablain woods, driving southward in an attempt to reach the Douaumont-Bras road.

The first German attacks were beaten back before the enemy reached the French trenches. The second assault, delivered by still heavier forces, carried the enemy into the advanced positions and forced the surrender of a redoubt and its connected advanced trenches forming an exposed salient northwest of Douaumont village.

THREE POLICEMEN

AS YEGG WORKED

Scarcely Across the Street from Majestic When Explosion Opened the Safe

NO CLUE TO THE CRACKSMAN

Outer Door of Safe Was Open and He Was Able to Muffle Blast Inside Steel Walls

Three policemen passed beneath the window of the Majestic theater office not five minutes before the explosion which wrecked the safe and allowed the theft of $600 from the safe early Monday morning, according to Chief of Police John B. Webber this morning. The yegg who cracked the safe must have been at work at the moment that the officers went by to make their 5 o'clock report at the station, the chief said. Incidentally, the police said, they were scarcely more than across the street from the theater when Ernest Behrens, bartender, heard through the partition the muffled thump of the explosion, the chief believes. The three officers, William Wermuth, Blaine Thompson and Herman Riek, met Behrens going to work, at the mouth of the alley beside the Majestic, and it was before Behrens had removed his coat after unlocking the door of the Majestic buffet that he heard the explosion.

A Lone Cracksman

Chief Webber today had not succeeded in hitting the trail of the yegg. From indications he discovered, he believes that the job was done by a lone cracksman. Various other discoveries today revised the first theories of the police. For instance, a window on the east side of the theater was discovered "jimmied" open, indicating that the safe-blower had there found entrance, rather than that he had concealed himself in the theater the night before, as at first

Letcher Statement from Chihuahua Discredits Story; Cusiuhirachie Dispatches Made No Mention

MEXICANS CLING TO STORY

Blame Bad Wires and Heavy Trails for Lack of Word and Delay in Arrival of Body

EL PASO, Texas, April 18.—While American officials in El Paso this afternoon privately expressed the opinion that "no one south of Juarez had ever heard of the discovery of Pancho Villa's body," General Gavira at Juarez announced he had received a message of verification of the report that the body had been found.

Officials at Fort Bliss, however, refused to be quoted here. It was stated their reports must come from General Funston.

Offsetting Gavira's announcement was a code message from Cusiuhirachie, El Paso offices making no mention of the reported death of Villa. Gavira's advice Sunday were that the body was being brought to Cusi. The telegram from Enriquez as given out by Gavira indicated that the body may not yet have been located.

Bell Sees Fabrication

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, April 18.—General Bell officially reported to Funston from El Paso today, declaring his belief that the entire story of Villa's body having been found was manufactured in Juarez.

A statement from Consul Letcher at Chihuahua further discredited the story, asserting that dispatches from Cusiuhirachie made no mention of the body.

Blame Bad Wires

EL PASO, Texas, April 18.—Mexican officials, the only authorities professing to have direct knowledge of the finding of Villa's body near San Francisco Borja, claim wires which went down last night prevented receipt of further information early today. While the failure of the Mexicans rapidly to produce the body for identification by Americans has increased skepticism the delay may be due to natural causes such as slow means of transportation. It was also pointed out that the Carranza officials may be honest and yet themselves the victims of a hoax or misapprehension.

Only Villa's head may be brought back for identification according to Carranza Consul Garcia today. He said that the probably decomposed condition of the body and the fact that the rough mountain trails were thirty or more miles to the grave from the nearest railroad might render removal of the corpse difficult. Garcia said he had no further news regarding the body, but saw no reason to change his belief that it really was Villa's.

Capital Skeptical

WASHINGTON, April 18.—Reports of Villa's death are taken with considerable salt in the absence of American confirmation.

Press reports of trouble between soldiers and civilians at Casas Grandes bothered officials, though they had no confirmation early today.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, April 18.—Companies B and C of the Twenty-fourth Infantry will leave here immediately for El Paso where they will prepare for service in Mexico.

ROCKFORD, Ill., April 18.—Coroner McAllister announced this afternoon that cyanide of potassium had been found in the contents of the stomach of Miss Lillian Kjellstrom, Rockford's "Goody-goody Girl," for whose death Ross Wagner is detained. Wagner admits having kept company with the girl.

The Kjellstrom death, under circumstances said by officials to resemble the case of Marian Lambert at Lake Forest, Ill., was a puzzle until the fifth chemical analysis of her stomach was completed this afternoon.

The poison, it was announced, was in sufficient quantity to kill.

CARRANZISTAS CALLED "GUARD"

DETACHMENT WAS SURROUNDED

Americans were Moving Out of City when De Facto Soldiers Fired Upon Them

BY H. D. JACOBS

(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN MEXICO, April 16, via wireless to Columbus, N. M., April 18.—General Pershing arrived today at his field headquarters near Namiquipa after an all night ride from Satevo, for a conference with members of his staff.

Men in Pershing's command have brought details of the Parral fight of April 12, which placed the matter in the light of a deliberate attack by Carranzista soldiers, even possibly of an attempt to annihilate the little force of 114 cavalrymen under Major Tompkins.

After one of his men had been killed Tompkins made up his mind that if his command was going to be slaughtered they would die fighting. He "cut loose" as one of Pershing's men said, and the Mexicans soon retreated leaving over forty dead on the field.

Tompkins held his men in restraint until he saw on an adjacent hill in Parral a body of soldiers over whom the Mexican flag was flying. In answer to Tompkins' question, General Lozano, a Carranza officer who led the American column into the city, told him that the troops on the hill were part of the garrison watching the movements of the Americans with intent to guard them.

"Guard" Fires

Just then the so-called guard fired a volley into the American detachment, killing one trooper.

An enormous crowd of Mexicans, made up largely of Carranza soldiers, had surrounded the United States troops.

Previously there had been little shooting which Tompkins thought were fired in welcome of the Americans. He had been met by Lozano who promised a welcome and a camping place. A non-commissioned officer stepped up to Tompkins and reported that the Americans had been fired upon and a number of them wounded.

Tompkins asked Lozano for an explanation, but he seemed mystified, afterward asking Tompkins to get his men out of the city immediately. Lozano offered to guide the Americans to safety, but Tompkins fearing a trap formed a plan of his own.

A squad of eight skirmishers were thrown out at the head of the retreating American column seeking to find an easy means of exit. The mobs grew larger. Rifle and pistol fire at the Americans became incessant. Then followed the incident of the so-called Carranza guard on the hill and the reply of the Americans.

Detachment Entrenched

Tompkins retired to Santa Cruz, where he dug himself in and awaited reinforcements. These soon began to arrive from all directions, a command under Colonel Allen making a phenomenal march to the scene. Colonel Brown and Major Howze led other reinforcing detachments.

Pershing's men also reported that Lozano, representing Major Herrera at Parral, had arranged for Tompkins to be at the railroad station just before noon where he would find an escort of Carranzista soldiers. Tompkins was on time but found no escort. While he was talking with Lozano, the American cavalrymen dismounted. In a few minutes the mob began to gather. Led by Lozano toward the proposed camping place, the Americans had proceeded but a short distance when the first shots were fired.

The American casualties were two killed, one missing and six wounded. Major Tompkins suffered a slight wound.

M'GREGOR BALL PARK NOW CHOICE FISHING GROUND

Four Feet of Water Flood Diamond in High River Mark and Fishermen Get Busy

M'GREGOR, Ia., April 18.—(Special.)—Local fishermen are setting their seines on the base ball diamond of Turner Park and making good-sized hauls of fish. The park, due to the flood stage of the river is covered with four feet of back water, and many of the channel fish have come up onto it to escape the deep roily waters of the river.
In contrast to the present high waters Daniel Davies, one of the oldest residents of McGregor, tells of the spring of 1864 when the Mississippi was the lowest ever known since the permanent settlements were made in the upper valley. Where the water is now thirty feet deep opposite McGregor he says a big sand bar at that time extended across the east channel. Mr. Davies attempted to make a trip to McGregor from the south by steamer during the low water, but the boat was forced to abandon the trip at Port Huron below Davenport, the river being unnavigable north of that.

Comes to Organize

A. E. Nisson of Iowa City comes to McGregor April 20 to organize an Auto Trails' association to co-operate with trail associations in other Iowa towns in the marking and improving of three new highways to the National park site. The North Pike is now marked for every mile of the way from Sioux Falls, S. D., to McGregor. Two other trails have been organized, the "Geranium trail" and the "Park Highway." A third the "East Iowa Scenic Trail" from Burlington, Davenport and Dubuque over the old immigrant trail through Garnaville is soon to be organized.

Five thousand emblems have already been ordered to mark the park highway which will extend from Ottumwa and Cedar Rapids to McGregor through Marion, Central City, Manchester, Edgewood, Littleport and Elkader. The markers are to be of metal, 10 by 14 inches in size and carry a design made by W. S. Bickel of Cedar Rapids, engineer of the National Park association, which combines the circular park emblem of blue and gold with a triangle containing the name of the highway.

The Geranium trail from Des Moines and Waterloo to McGregor by way of Grundy Center, Marshalltown, Oelwein, Strawberry Point and Elkader will be marked with metal markers of similar size stamped with a large "G" with a red geranium in the center of it. Committees in each town on the two trails are to be placed in charge of the work of placing the markers, raising funds and boosting for the improvement of their different sections of the trails. All of the trails to center at McGregor will connect by auto ferry with the Prairie du Chien, Madison and Milwaukee highway to Chicago.

Local and Personal

John Quincy Adams, who has been a resident of McGregor since 1888, died Monday at the age of 83. The funeral was held at the Methodist church.

The Civics committee of the Tourist club to raise money for a clean-up campaign, will hold a benefit show at the Delight theater.

A number of the summer cottages on Bergman's island are standing in the water and will be considerably damaged it is believed.
Mr. Minnet of Waukon and W. F. Bickel of Cedar Rapids are engaged this week in surveying lots on McGregor Heights. One hundred new lots will be laid out and offered for sale as summer cottage sites.
Professor F. Elwell of the University of Wisconsin and Miss Marie Elwell, a student at the university, have been guests this week of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. C. Elwell.

W. Bryan has returned from a trip to New York city and a voyage to the Bermuda Islands.
Beginning with last Monday all passenger trains on the C. M. and St. Paul, operating through McGregor, are furnished with U. S. mail cars.

GALESVILLE NOW HAS LEAGUE TO ENFORCE THE LAW

Member Presents Name of Outsider Who It Is Claimed Voted at the Wet and Dry Election

GALESVILLE, Wis., April 18.—(Special.)—From now on Galesville will have its laws strictly enforced, and if the head men of the city can help it, there will be absolutely no blind pigs or bootlegging in the village while it is dry. At the last meeting of the city council, a special committee, called the law enforcement committee, was formed. The committee is made up of men who are thoroughly in sympathy with the movement, and the thing is bound to be a very good thing for the town.

The first work of this committee was done last Thursday at the meeting of the council, when Mr. Herried, chairman of the new committee, presented protest against a man who voted at the recent election. Mr. Herried asked for the punishment of the man, but Mayor Twesme asked for a written complaint to be presented at a future meeting.

MYRLAND CONTEMPT IN VALECIA CASE BEFORE U. S. COURT

MADISON, Wis., April 18.—A hearing will be conducted before the United States district court in Chicago today in the appeal from Judge A. L. Sanborn's order adjudging J. Myrland, secretary of the state tax commission, guilty of contempt. When the bankruptcy proceedings were being conducted in the Valecia condensed milk case last fall, Myrland refused to testify as to the sworn income tax statement of the company. Disclosing the contents of income tax returns is prohibited by the Wisconsin statute.

DENIES "PAJAMA" STORY

CHICAGO, April 18.—"Absurd! It's an unqualified falsehood," declared Adele Rowland, the actress, in denying the alleged pajama role, in which Mrs. Roberta Menzies Corwin Hill Tearle, wife of Conway Tearle, actor, says she found Miss Rowland and her husband in the latter's apartment in New York.

Mrs. Tearle has named Miss Rowland in her suit for divorce. Miss Rowland said she went to Tearle's apartment to read over a play and that her sister chaperoned the party.

HOW TO REDUCE YOUR WEIGHT

A Simple, Safe, Reliable Way
People who are over-burdened with superfluous fat, know only too well the discomfort and ridicule that over-stout people have to bear. If you are carrying around five or ten pounds of unhealthy fat you are unnecessarily weakening your vital organs and are carrying a burden which destroys the beauty of your figure.

There is no need of anyone suffering from superfluous fat. If you want to reduce your weight in a simple, safe and reliable way, without starvation diet or tiresome exercise, here is a test worth trying. Spend as much time as you can in the open air, breathe deeply and get from City Book and Drug store, 500 Main St., Columbia Pharmacy, 123 South Fourth St., a box of oil of korein capsules; take one after each meal and one before retiring at night. Weigh yourself once a week so as to know just how fast you are losing weight and don't leave off the treatment or even skip a single dose until you are down to normal.

Oil of korein is absolutely harmless, is pleasant to take, and helps digestion. Even a few days' treatment has been reported to show a noticeable reduction in weight, foot-steps become lighter, your work seems easier and a lighter and more buoyant feeling takes possession of your whole being.

Every person who suffers from superfluous fat should give this treatment a trial.

VERSE and REVERSE
The Space Writer's Soliloquy
The birds are singing in the trees.
The swallow's note is on the breeze
'Tis rumored there's an anthem choir
Abroad these days in Nature's voice,
I say, "Tis rumored," for I've lacked
The time to verify the fact.
You see the only sound I've heard,
Has been one single haunting word,
A word of threatening command;
A word of urgent, stern demand:
"Copy!!!"
'Tis rumored autos chug and snort
Down at the stylish lake resort;
That gasoline yachts puff and pant,
But verify these facts, I can't.
I fear that Gabriel in vain
Will toot his horn with might and main,
Providing that he toots for me.
I'll never hear it, for you see,
I'll be hemmed in by copy boys,
Who with this word will drown his noise:
"Copy!!!"

"ONE HAND IN THE HOPPER
THE OTHER IN THE BAG"

The Ferris water power bill, a measure that deals equitably with the public as well as capital, has twice passed the house of representatives, but never the senate. The latter has passed the obnoxious Shields bill, which gives away in perpetuity water power equal to twice the total power now in operation. Another bill, better than the Shields bill in that it limits franchises to fifty years, but bad in that it gives away this great resource without compensation, is now in the house. The water-power interests hope to frame up a "satisfactory" bill in conference and to squeeze it through in the hurry of the closing days of the session.

That which this plan contemplates is probably the most colossal steal ever attempted in a public measure. Congressmen from Wisconsin, the state that has pointed the way in water power legislation, are fairly familiar with the subject and forewarned against the attempted invasion of the nation's wealth. Both Badger senators are fighting for the rights of the people against the power grab. We hope our representatives will make it a clean slate.

A PETTY VICE OF JOURNALISM

Writing to the "Letters" department of the Milwaukee Journal "Self Conscious", a youth with a hunch and no courage, inquires whether "it is wrong to kiss a girl whom he has known for two years good night." Good night! The "Letters" editor, as much a piker as "Self Conscious", hesitates. A man who is sport enough to edit that column of rot might have been expected to answer "is she pretty?" The editor also tells a girl who is five feet high and signs herself "Birdie", that she should weigh 115 pounds. Please attend to the matter at once, Birdie.

No doubt the bromides must have their chance, and even the most respectable newspapers will take their fling at yellow journalism, but we never read one of these "personal columns" without an inward conviction that somewhere there is a brilliant newspaper man who should climb onto the water wagon. No man who has never seen things on the foot of the bed is eligible to the job.

REDUCTIO
AD ABSURDUM

Miss Noise (far be it from us to play puns with a lady's name) Miss Ruth Astor Noyes, the well known suffragist leader, in defending the short skirt says that "everyone knows anyway that a woman has legs."

Yes, thanks to the short skirt! Honest to goodness! until the arrival of this revealing garment we never knew. But now the knowledge has evicted all other male impressions of women. So long as the short skirt lasts don't expect a man to be able to tell the color of a woman's hair—we affect habitually a downcast air. The want "ad" department observes that nowadays a majority of "lost" articles are returned by men.

One wonders just how far Miss Noyes will pursue her fashion philosophy concerning what "everybody knows".

SATURDAY NIGHT BANK SERVICE

The robbery at the Majestic, in which both Saturday and Sunday receipts were looted, raises again a question that has been satisfactorily solved in many cities—a question of banking service.

Our stores remain open for business Saturday nights. The banks close at noon on Saturdays. As a result every store, every theater, every business house of every character, must carry over Sunday the receipts of Saturday afternoon and evening. Thus thousands of dollars are exposed to burglary each week on the night most favorable to a "clean job".

It does not seem too much to ask the banks to open up on Saturday nights long enough to protect the banks' patrons by caring for the day's and evening's income of the business public.

In the absence of other data explanatory of the popularity of Mr. Justice Hughes as a presidential candidate, one turns to the jurist's whiskers. Can there be an omen in the political successes of President Carranza?

Cleanse the Blood
Banish Rheumatism

Rheumatism Due to Bad Blood. S. S. S. Your Remedy

Thousands have been made well. People in the poorest health, suffering from Rheumatism, with whom pain was constant. Who believed that their vitality was sapped beyond repair. It was proven to them that the cause of their trouble was the blood; that Uric Acid, the most faithful ally of Rheumatism, had gripped them. The poison in the blood had sapped its strength. The weakened blood had allowed poison and impurities to accumulate, and all energy was gone. They felt "moribund."

MARGATE
Margate in war-time is one more striking reminder of the changes that 1916 sees over 1914. Two years ago today the summer rush from London was just beginning to this most popular of English bathing beaches. Margate's winter population of 20,000 was preparing to receive 60,000 summer visitors, spring cleaning like a hospitable housewife, opening the big hotels, cleaning up the firm sandy beach, setting out the booths and tents and side-shows. Now she is going through the process in perfunctory manner, but it is to the credit of England that she knows that her visitors will be few and far between. This is no time for John Bull to go a-peasurizing.

Margate is one of the oldest of ocean-side summer resorts. The practice of sporting in the waves and getting sunburned on the sand is of comparatively recent origin, though it has crystallized into a tradition on both sides of the Atlantic until the present generation regards it as part of the eternal order of things. Margate remembers the day when a cautious public emerged coyly from the bath-house and stepped gingerly down toward the breakers with one eye on the outraged conventionalities.

She remembers the despotic reign of the horse-drawn bathing machine, wherein embarrassed femininity could luxuriate in the cool touch of the channel in perfect privacy, and incidentally, in perfect discomfort. One of the earliest bathing-machines of which there is any record was designed for the Margate beach. Its yellowed specifications still survive, setting forth the method by which the driver shall hail his fair passenger down to the breakers, turn around and back her in, and, by pulling a rope, lower a sheltering umbrella between the open door of his craft and the vistas of nature. Sheltered by umbrella and wagon, the lady might splash in peace.

It is a far cry from that to the present beach conventions, where the gentler sex wins long-distance swimming races and umbrellas have other uses. The change has brought great growth to Margate, until today she is a place of big hotels, of merry crowds and summer carnival. At least, such she was before August, 1915, and such she will be again—if there is anyone left to swim when the treaty of peace is signed.

THE WINNER
By William Wenter.

Henry did not heed it, and the attempt was really futile, for enough was certain over the remaining distance. The call for gas had been only a precaution, anyway.
Meanwhile, the crowd was shrieking for the Crescent, which had seized the opportunity and was being driven like mad to catch and pass the halted Parker. Verrens bent over his wheel and urged his car to the last ounce of speed. A lap and another was almost gained when the Parker rolled out of the pits, and cheered on by its shouting partisans, took up its march to victory.

During the entire long day Alice had sat in the pagoda with her father and watched with tense face and beating heart the wild melee of the thundering cars, alternately urging on the Parker and praying silently against a mishap. Every hushed rumor of accident and death had brought her heart to her throat lest the wreck turn out to be that of the car Henry drove. Every succeeding flash of the great black body past the wire had sent a wave of joy throbbing through her.

Early enough she had seen that neither the Parker nor the Crescent had a chance to win the race and she spared a cheer for the gallant little DeChaud as it flew along in the lead. Then she and her father devoted their attention to the race as it really existed for them, that between the two cars that were so evenly matched and driven. The strain wore on her, but she hid her anxiety as well as she was able.

But, late in the afternoon, heedless of the fact that the race was finished for most people and that the crowd was beginning to leave, she saw, with heart that almost stopped, the final pause of the Parker.

"Look at that boy!" she cried.
"What is he doing with the gasolene?" Her father looked and snorted.
"Fool!" said he.

But the Parker got away in time and vanished around the turn, all apparently going well with it.
Yet, when it came in sight around the north turn, Alice was leaning far out and watching for it with strained eyes. What she saw caused her to cry out.

"Merciful God! He is on fire!"
She sprang to her feet and turned to the stairs, her father following her. They went down to the field and hastened toward the pits, the girl with drawn face and suffering eyes. They passed Parker, wandering glumly about the place, and Tredeker, not so obsessed as his daughter, nodded to him.

"Trouble with your car?" he said.
Parker snarled.
"I hope to God," he said, "that she burns plumb up and that condemned idiot with her!"

Alice saw, as in a dream, the distant black threads of spectators winding from the stands across the track, dawdling along to catch a last glimpse of the cars still fighting it out for the positions. From over there came the crash of cheers, constantly weakening, as the remaining loyal partisans urged each flying machine as it got the flag. It seemed strangely heartless and unfeeling to her that they could cheer when that awful holocaust was sweeping before them threatening the life of the man she loved.

She and her father won to the pits and found the crew of the Parker leaning over the rails watching with intent eyes for the reappearance of their car. Evidently it had not stopped, and a hope that the flames had seen might not have been serious took hold of her. But every man in the party was watching with an intensity that argued something unusual.

Then came a veritable scream of cheers and she sensed that the crowd was on its toes. She pushed recklessly through the men to the rail of the pit and leaned out. Up on the suspension bridge, swaying perilously, the starter was giving the Parker the flag. Far up the stretch was a mass of flame and smoke.

The Parker had gone more than two laps before Henry realized that something was wrong. A terrible lump rose in his throat and his heart became constricted. Were they to fail at the threshold of such a victory as never yet had been heard of? Was this miracle of a car to falter and stop as the goal was in sight? No, by God! he swore, not if he had to push it home in front.

But there was something wrong. There was a smell of heated metal that was not the usual smell. There was a sound in the engine. It was growling as if hard pressed. He looked at the score-board as they passed it. Two laps and only two to go!

Something was wrong! He had not seen that gasoline was slopped over the car when they left the pits. He had not dreamed that it had spread over the engine itself, down pipe lines and into contact with a spark from the manifold. But he felt that disaster was at hand.

On the last turn before they came into the straightaway to receive the checkered flag that should warn them of the final lap, a flame crept through the hood and flickered wickedly before them. Henry breathed a sob of despair. Huddings' face worked silently as he started to move the throttle.

The act made Henry mad. He had fought too hard and done too much to give in now. He reached out and Henry Otto, the rather famous director, was taking a picture in a great hurry. Having attended to most of the details himself he sent an assistant to find a good location for "a run on the bank." "Mind you pick out a good one," yelled Mr. Otto. The assistant vanished and was gone several hours. When he came back he told Mr. Otto, who was frothing at the mouth, having been searching high and low for the assistant, that he had just the place. "Well, for heaven's sake lead us to it, quick," Mr. Otto commanded wearily. Director, camera men, and company followed the assistant into the autos waiting outside. After a long auto ride they stopped and the assistant pointed with pride to a long green mossy bank, fronting a beautiful lawn.

Crane Wilbur in His Own Drama

Crane Wilbur, who has been starring in David Horsley productions for the past six months, will have as his next vehicle a psychological drama written by himself, entitled "The Conscience of John David."

It has been made in five parts and is scheduled for release as a Mutual Masterpicture on April 24.

The theme is that man's better self always rises to its proper sphere, no matter what his preceding state, through the influence of conscience.

In the supporting cast are Alice Rinaldo, Frederick Montague, John Oaker, Mae Gaston, Louis Durham and Francis Raymond.

Vitagraph Hero Is Ready to Fight

Charles Richman writes in from the wilds of Texas that if matters come to a head with Mexico he will forsake the Vitagraph eagle and enlist as a private under the screaming eagle of the United States. Richman says the atrocities reported at Brownsville are too terrible to print, and that the tension against all things Mexican has caused Mexicans on the American side to stay in after dark.

Jackie Saunders, one of "the Maude Adams of the screen," will play the title role in "A Slave of Corruption," a forthcoming release.

grasped the fingers that would have pushed the throttle.
"Never mind the flame," he screamed. "Drive! Damn you! Drive as you never drove before!"

Huddings looked at him and obeyed. They swept down the stretch at the same speed and the flag waved above them as they passed under the bridge. Before them was the Crescent, the mechanician glaring back at them while he urged Verrens on to new effort, sure now of triumph since the rival car was on fire.

The stands shrieked as the car rushed past like a meteor with the flames creeping up the radiator and snapping about the hood. In the driver's seat sat a still grim figure and beside him, a begrimed and shrouded gnome stood up holding to the seat with one hand while with the other he ripped the leather-covered padding of the bucket. They saw it come away in his hands and belovved approval as he leaned over the dash and beat at the fire that lapped at his very face. Thus that immortal car swept round the turn on its last lap, while Henry fought the flames that, at any moment, might reach the gas and send him to eternity.

How long he fought he never knew. Smoke and heat choked and seared him; his hands were scorched, but he heeded nothing save that they must finish. Hours seemed to have passed before the last curve was behind them and they dashed down the stretch toward the pits, but as he lay out on the hood and pounded at the leading death, he knew that he had won!

So they came in in tenth place at the fourth running of the Cosmopolitan Sweepstakes.

"Let me go!" cried Henry, to the men that clapped and cheered. "Let me go to claim my prize!"

But Tredeker was already there to bestow it and behind him, Alice, weeping and smiling, pitiful and triumphant, welcomed him to it.

BLIND BOOT BLACKS

Shoe shining is the newest occupation invaded by the blind. It has been proved practicable by the provision of special equipment. Separate apartments are provided for the polish, brushes and cloths used in applying the different colors and the boys are readily able to locate them. Soap diffusers are used in place of the daubers used by the seeing "blackies," and a waterproof protector is used to protect the bottoms of the customer's trousers. After the boot black has learned the process he is able to apply a shine as quickly as a boy with sight, the highly sensitive tips of his fingers enabling him to recognize the degree of polish by touch.

WITNESS WEDDING OF MIDGET PAIR

NEW YORK, April 18.—While the lion roared an accompaniment to a calliope's wedding march, Francis Short and Miss Elsie Reineking were made man and wife in the most unusual wedding New York has ever seen. The pair are midgets with a big circus and were married in the center of the ring with two witnesses on one pair of legs—the double bodied man performing the function. A giant, six times the size of the bridegroom, was best man, and the bride came only to the knee of the bridesmaid, a giantess. The happy pair were wished well by glass eaters, sword swallowers, long whiskered men, bearded ladies, Cossack girls, fat boys and a few undistinguished by physical peculiarities. The groom is a 72 pounder and the bride weighs but 69.

HAIR COMING OUT?

Dandruff causes a feverish irritation of the scalp, the hair reds, shrinks, loosens and then the hair comes out fast. To stop falling hair at once and rid the scalp of the particle of dandruff, get a bottle of Danderine at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub it into the scalp. After a few applications the hair stops coming out and you can't find any more.

Reducing The High Cost Of Living

VI—Reducing the Meat Bill

(Written for THE TRIBUNE by Nellie Maxwell, Department of Farmers' Institutes of the University of Wisconsin.)

The high cost of living is not entirely the higher price of foodstuffs, but the taste for luxury. Too many of us are like the man who said he could get along without the necessities if he could have the luxuries.

The meat bill may be easily reduced in three ways—in quality, quantity, or in substitution of other foods. If we want the choicest cuts of meat, we must pay the choice price. We cannot hope to have filets of beef or sweet breads at the price of round steak or hamburger.

The wise woman appreciates the value of the cheaper cuts—using the tough portions for long slow casserole cookery in combination with vegetables of various kinds, making a small amount of meat of cheap quality season a good sized dish of vegetables.

Meat on the farm may be placed in a cold place where it will keep until the whole animal is used. By smoking, corning and salting the meat it may be kept all summer, thus reducing the summer meat bill. Sausage, head-cheese and scrapple are most satisfactory methods of using small pieces and undesirable portions.

Meat should be hung long enough to develop the flavor which increases in the hanging. The lactic acid then developed softens the connective tissue making the meat more tender.

Very tender meat such as porter house steak, may be cooked quickly, at first at a high temperature. The tougher portions need long, slow cooking to soften the connective tissue and the much used muscles.

In serving the family daily, one soon learns the quantity each requires so that the carver has a large responsibility in the reduction of the meat bill. It is better to give a second helping than that good meat be wasted by putting too much on the plate at one time.

There can be no objection in one's own family in using the bits of meat and bones left on the individual plates for the soup pot. This will certainly amount to considerable in many homes. The fat may be tried out and used for shortening. Mutton fat which is too strongly flavored, may be used for soap making.

Chicken fat and bacon fat will take the place of butter in many dishes. In substituting other foods for meat we have eggs, milk, cheese, cereals and nuts. Meat being the chief source of our tissue building food, if it is lessened, we must substitute something which will supply protein and fat.

Oatmeal with milk is a good tissue building food—the protein is found in the oatmeal with some fat and the milk supplying more.

Eggs are fully as valuable as meat in composition and when reasonable in price are a good substitute. Cheese yields twice as much protein to the pound as meat and if properly masticated is as easy of digestion.

Legumes—peas, beans, lentils and peanuts are cheap and very sustaining. Nuts of various kinds are rich in oils and high in protein especially the almond.

Using any of the above meat substitutes a housewife may prepare a well balanced meal although the use of meat occasionally is to be recommended, for the appetizing flavor of meat extractives has no substitute.

May Send Woman to National Convention

SPOKANE, Wash., April 18.—Mrs. Sarah E. Flannigan of this city will be the second Washington woman to go to a political convention, it is expected. She is a progressive and believes the republicans at their Chicago convention. The late Mrs. May A. Hutton was the first Washington woman delegate to a national convention, having sat in the Baltimore convention of the democrats four years ago. Mrs. Flannigan is chairman of the legislative committee of the Spokane Federation of Women's clubs, and has demonstrated that women can wield an important influence in politics. Before going to the Chicago convention, she will attend the biennial of the Federated Clubwomen of America next month in New York.

Grant's Granddaughter In Domestic Trouble

SAN FRANCISCO, April 18.—If the divorced wife of Commander William P. Cronan, U. S. N., has her way, and the divorce granted some years ago is annulled, Nellie Grant, granddaughter of the late President Grant, will be in a different position. She is now Mrs. Cronan, having married the naval officer in 1913, after the divorce of his first wife. The Cronans have a ten-month-old child. The divorced wife, Marie Cronan, of Larchmont, N. Y., has petitioned the courts here to set aside the divorce decree which she obtained in 1910. She claims that Cronan in testimony before a Washington, D. C., court, declared that the divorce was obtained through "fraud and collusion."

Hospital Worker Returns to London

LONDON, April 18.—The return of Lady Paget, exhausted from her relief work in Serbia and her long trip through Roumania, Russia, Sweden and Norway to reach London, has brought to her a flood of compliments and the thanks of the big people of the world. Lady Paget, who served for Servians and Bulgarians alike in her big hospital at Uskub, and when she was forced to leave for Sofia, she was the guest of the Queen of Bulgaria.

JUNGBLUTH-McGRATH

Miss Irma McGrath, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McGrath, 720 Cameron avenue, and Alfred Jungbluth of Milwaukee, were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents at 6 o'clock Saturday evening. Rev. H. G. Magelsen of Our Savior's Lutheran church performed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Jungbluth left Saturday evening for their home in Milwaukee, where the groom is employed as mail clerk. Mr. Jungbluth is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Jungbluth, 1411 Ferry street.

SURPRISE PARTY

Miss Clara Johnson was pleasantly surprised Saturday evening at her home, 1806 Wood street, in honor of her fourteenth birthday. Music, games and dancing provided the evening's entertainment and at ten o'clock lunch was served, the feature of which was a large birthday cake, lighted with fourteen tapers. The hostess was presented with a handsome silver ring. Those present were the Misses Gladys and Eileen Hammersberg, Florence and Helen Moe, Lucile and Emma Sheely, Esther Nelson, Esther Graff, Mabel and Jessie Anderson, Margaret and Leona Rudolph, Dorothy and Ethel Casperson, Helen and Eleanor Hampton, Dorothy Snodgrass, Eleanor Dibble, Edith Nelson, Ruth Lowry, Ruth Burmaster, Florence Barron and Mattie Sullivan, and Messrs. Melvin and Lorean Johnson, Roswell Hammersberg and Floyd Moe.

HOUSE WARMING

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Gibson entertained a few friends at a house warming at their new home at 717 Badger street Saturday evening. Two tables of cards were played and music, both instrumental and vocal, contributed to the enjoyment of all. At ten o'clock a delightful Dutch lunch was served. The guests included the Messrs. and Mesdames H. Freise, Jr., C. King and Charles Heffling, Jr., and the Misses Ardelia King and Henrietta Freise.

Y. P. C. U. MEETS TONIGHT

All members and others expecting to become members of the Young People's Christian Union of St. Paul's Universalist church are urged to be present at the regular meeting of the organization at Unity House tonight. The business session, at which matters of importance will come up for action, will be called at half-past seven, and will be followed by a social time.

TEACHERS ENTERTAIN

Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock the teachers of the primary and beginners' department of the Caledonia Street Methodist Sunday school, including the Misses Gladys Johnson, Norma Partridge, Ruth Snyder and Eunice Van Burg and Mrs. Linwood Widrick, gave the annual Easter party to about eighty children. Games were played until three o'clock, when Miss Edith M. Boughton, normal school kindergarten teacher, amused the children with stories. At half-past three the mothers arrived and were entertained with an Easter program given by the little ones, after which refreshments were served. The smallest children were seated in little red chairs at a long low table, decorated with bunnies and nests of colored eggs. The favors were yellow baskets of candy eggs and the decorations were in yellow and white. A Victrola furnished music during the afternoon.

"LIMIT" CLUB

The member of the Limit Club were entertained by Miss Leone Kiebusch last evening at her home, 813 South Fifth street, at a farewell party for Miss Anna Larson who left this noon for Colorado. The evening was spent in sewing and refreshments were served.

Suffrag Conference to Be Held in Minneapolis

Many Wisconsin women, especially those in the northwestern part of the state, are anticipating with pleasure the Mississippi Valley conference in Minneapolis, May 7, 8, 9, and 10. The conference opens with a mass meeting in the Auditorium Sunday afternoon. Business sessions will be held Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. A reception and banquet are planned for Monday evening, a session on political work Tuesday evening and a congressional conference Wednesday morning. A mass meeting will be held in St. Paul Wednesday afternoon. In spite of the large attendance anticipated, the Minneapolis women offer entertainment of lodging and breakfast. Names may be sent to Mrs. George H. Partridge, chairman, 403 Essex building, Minneapolis. Wisconsin women on the program include Mrs. Henry M. Youmans, Mrs. A. S. Quackenbush, Mrs. Victor Berger.

Memorial For Women of South

GREENWOOD, Miss., April 18.—The fund of $5,000 for placing a memorial window to the women of the south in war-time in the building being erected by congress in Washington to the memory of the women of the north and south during the war, is now completed. It was raised throughout the south under the direction of Mrs. A. M. Kimbrough of this town, who is chairman of the committee of the United Daughters of the Confederacy. Congress raised $750,000 for the building which will stand in Washington as a monument to the women of the north and the south, and the Confederate Daughters were allowed to place there a window of their own.

Romance Interrupted By the War

WASHINGTON, April 18.—Another romance of the diplomatic corps has been interrupted by the war. The romance of Miss Mabel Johnston of this city had all preparations completed for her wedding on April 25 to Marshall Langhorne, secretary of the legation at The Hague. The groom-to-be was on his way home, and had reached London. He had even departed for the wharf, when suddenly orders were cable to hold him and request that he return to his post at once.

LANDMARK PASSES WHEN WRECKERS GET AT OLD ICE HOUSE

Twenty-five Year Old Structure Burned Last Fall Being Torn Down; New Building Takes Place

With the dismantling of the partially fire destroyed ice house of the Milwaukee near the north side station, one of the landmarks of the north side passes. Contractor George Pratt today started his crew of wreckers to tearing down the walls of the building, which was gutted by fire last September.

The ice house, which, until it burned, served the needs of the Milwaukee for refrigerator icing, was built twenty-five years ago. The modern structure in the east yards, recently completed, takes the place of the old building.

RAIL COMMISSION WARNS STATE OF CAR SHORTAGE

MADISON, Wis., April 18.—(Special.)—To avoid a car shortage and to do all possible to obviate such conditions, the railroad commission today issued a circular to be sent to all the railroads and shippers asking them to co-operate. The circular says:

"In view of the serious shortage of cars, particularly box cars, existing throughout the country in general, including the state of Wisconsin where conditions appear to be growing more and more acute, the commission desires to direct the attention of railroads and shippers to the necessity of individual and co-operative action to the end that each and every car may be made to give the greatest possible service. As the shortage of cars is a matter of vital importance to railroads, shippers and to the general public, everyone should make an effort to aid in relieving the situation. There are many opportunities for doing this which, no doubt, are well known to those directly interested."

The commission then advises the railroads to perform all switching services promptly. It gives methods for handling cars as terminals so as to avoid delays.

"Shippers should load and unload all cars without unnecessary delay," continues the commission's letter, "regardless of free time allowance or demurrage charges, and furnish billing to the railroads as soon as possible after the cars are ready to move."

SPOTLIGHTS

HARRY LAUDER

Harry Lauder will be seen at the La Crosse Theater this evening. This in itself is an announcement of big importance, but it can be stated in addition that Harry will sing at least six new songs, of which he is both the author and composer, as well as some of the old favorites, which the audiences will no doubt demand. He has also brought together from Europe and America some of the best vaudeville acts, the majority of which has never been seen before in this country, and all this will mean that Lauder's engagement will be an event in this city long to be remembered.

CAN WE HOLD THE TRADE WE'VE WON BELOW EQUATOR?

farthest away, and the industrial stronghold of Great Britain in Latin-America, we have more than doubled our share of the trade. In 1914 we had 13.4 per cent of it, and in 1915 28.4 per cent. Furthermore, we have loaned immense sums of money in the Argentine, and trade always follows the loan. It was England's loans and investments in the Argentine that gained her a large share of Argentine business. Now, by her orders in council, she has prohibited the lending of any money outside her realm. Not long ago the Argentine government needed $50,000,000, and turned to the United States for the money. British bankers protested, and finally half of the loan was placed in Great Britain and half in the United States. The British bankers disposed of the bonds with difficulty, the Americans with ease.

Our Standards Set
In all branches of business, Americans are coming to the fore. Several large contracts have been awarded American firms by great South American municipalities. American meat packers are rapidly extending their facilities in Brazil and the Argentine. Americans are building South American railways. In countries where the English gauge and rail were rapidly becoming the standard before the war, the American measurements are in a fair way to do so now. Our progress in Latin America has been thus summarized by William C. Wells, statistician of the Pan-American Union:
"We have extended our Latin-American trade to lines that we never before sold in those countries; we have taken up all of the business dropped by Germany and Austria, and have gained upon Great Britain."

"What share of this trade we will hold after the European war," he adds, "depends entirely upon our efficiency in manufacturing and distributing."

This last question as to what share of the trade gained during the war we will hold after the making of peace, is the one of greatest present importance. The war has made us for the time being a great manufacturing and exporting nation. What part of our sudden growth has the mushroom quality? The munition business is necessarily temporary. Much of the trade in foodstuffs and fabrics to the warring nations must also be greatly curtailed after the war. But in Latin America, the demand will not be greatly modified. The chief difference will be that the European nations, with great debts to pay, will face us in keen competition.

War Stimulates Trade
One fallacy entertained by many Americans is that these nations will be too weakened to be formidable. The testimony of all experts, and all the precedents of history are against this conclusion. Horrible war is, from a social and humanitarian point of view, and too cruel a price to pay for any boon, but it has almost invariably acted as an industrial stimulus. Europe will lay down arms, and take up business, better organized, better disciplined, hardened and trained in body, grimly determined in spirit.

Our skill as manufacturers, and our organization for selling will be severely tested. Only those industries which can produce a better article for the money and are organized to hold the market, will win out. This is the opinion of the trade experts. They believe that in some lines, such as iron and steel manufactures, we will hold every inch we have gained. In others we must inevitably lose. These losses, however, will be valuable as a lesson in the need for national organization and policy in foreign trade relations.

Latin-America Growing
Meanwhile, what of the countries we are dealing with? They are progressing far more rapidly than we are. Their populations are multiplying at an unprecedented rate. They are at once pushing a long frontier into a rich wilderness, and building up a metropolitan civilization. Buenos Ayres is now one of the great cities of the world. It has been estimated that at the present rate of increase, in fifteen years it will be greater than Chicago and become the second American city.

And the strength of these lusty young countries is going into building and conquering nature. They are looking to us for funds and tools with which to work. If we are to share in their brilliant future, and realize the Pan American ideal, we must not fail them.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflammation of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed it is swollen and the sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circular, free.

ART NOTES

The twelve canvases shown in the exhibit of the La Crosse Art Association now open in the Washington library form a small but very notable collection, and should be seen not once only but many times by all. The very best artists of America—though not all of them, of course—are here represented. They have, every one, nationwide reputations as painters, gained by sheer merits, as it must always be in art. The medals, the honors, the prizes are all won competitively. One may or may not fancy this or that subject; may or may not like this picture so well as another by the same artist; but this is no matter. Here are the works of masters only, persons who have won their fame and honors from national and international juries of experts in art.

As to prices: Any art product is worth whatever it will bring, often much more. But the varying prices seen in any exhibit, be it remembered, has small relation to the subject painted, to the size of the picture, or to its art value as compared with the art value of another artist's work. These are the elements, some or all of which, fix the price of a given canvas. The honors the artist has received, his prices rising as recognition comes to him, the art value in the picture; the number of canvases he has for sale, i. e., if the artist be no longer living or not producing if his canvases are scarce or rare their value will of necessity increase, provided of course the artist has merit or reputation; and lastly, the prices he can command.

Buy a catalogue for 10 cents and keep it as a souvenir of the exhibit. It contains brief sketches of the artists, some information about the Art association of La Crosse, and is altogether neat, artistic bit of printing. You will thus be helping to defray the expense of the present exhibit, and encouraging the board to continue the present plan of bringing good art to La Crosse—within the reach of all. The number of exhibits, their size, and importance, are dependent upon but one thing—funds in the treasury, which in turn depend upon the number of members of the association.

The Canadian Art club, of which Horatio Walker is president, held its eighth annual exhibition in the Art Museum of Toronto last autumn. The exhibit comprised 137 paintings representing the works of seventeen painters besides Mr. Walker.

During the past few months the City Art Museum of St. Louis has acquired a number of beautiful and interesting art objects: Six oils from the brushes of J. H. Twombly, Ernest Lawson F. C. Frieseke, Chester Harding, and Gilbert Stuart (his "Study Head"). Twenty-seven new prints have been added to an already valuable collection. Thirty-four pieces from the Morgan collection of Chinese porcelain were purchased a few months before, and more recently a number of pieces of Chinese pottery have been added. Each month one or two special exhibits are shown. During February the large collection of French paintings and sculpture for the Panama-Pacific exposition and the Portrait exhibition sent out by the American Federation of Arts were on view.

The John Herron Art Institute (Indianapolis) has recently acquired for its permanent collection a painting of still life by Emil Carlsen, and a fish picture by William M. Chase. This is the fourth of Mr. Chase's works which this institution has acquired.

Through the generosity of the Friends of American Art the Art Institute of Chicago has lately acquired four paintings, and a sculpture by Chester Beach—a portrait bust of his wife in marble. The paintings are by Charles W. Hawthorne, Elizabeth Sparhawk-Jones, Gifford Beal, and Roy Brown.

COLONEL NEGLECTS TO RESERVE HOTEL SPACE IN CHICAGO

OYSTER BAY, L. I., April 18.—Colonel Roosevelt has made no hotel reservations at Chicago, though the republican and progressive conventions are but seven weeks apart, but his friends said today that it is quite likely he will be on the ground. In spite of reports to the contrary, Colonel Roosevelt will make no stumping campaign before the Chicago conventions. He feels that his views on the 1916 issues are pretty well known, and that there is nothing he can add to them. At present he contemplates making not more than two public addresses in the west within the next two months. The first of these speeches will be made April 29 before the Illinois Bar association at Chicago.

PRaise FOR "FOOLS"

CHICAGO, April 18.—"The greatest fools have accomplished some of the greatest achievements," the Rev. Jenkins Lloyd Jones declared today in characterizing Henry Ford as a "fool" and his peace voyage as "foolish."

BRING IN DECREEPT

COLUMBUS, N. M., April 18.—Thirty sick and wounded men were expected to arrive here today from Mexico by motor truck train. The wireless to the hospital corps did not state whether the wounded were all American soldiers or included some wounded Mexican prisoners.

RECIPE TO DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

Not a Trace of Gray Shows After Applying to Hair and Scalp No Dye—Harmless

Apply like a shampoo to your hair and scalp Q-Ban Hair Color Restorer. Do this every day for a week then three times a week. In a short time all your gray, faded, prematurely gray or gray streaked hair turns an even beautiful dark shade with not even a trace of gray showing. Q-Ban makes scalp and hair healthy, leaving all your hair fluffy, soft, thick, clean, free from dandruff, and beautifully dark and lustrous. Q-Ban is not a dye, is harmless. Ask for Q-Ban Hair Color Restorer. It is ready to use, needs no mixing. Only 50c for a big bottle. Hoeschler Bros., Drug Store, La Crosse, Wis. Out-of-town folks supplied by mail.—Advertise ment.

WAR SHATTERS INTERESTING ROMANCE

Grand Duchess Olga.
An interesting romance has been shattered by the European war. Grand Duchess Olga of Russia, daughter of the czar, was reported a year ago as engaged to Crown Prince Boris of Bulgaria. Now Bulgaria is at war with Russia and the romance has come to an end.

FOREIGN MARKETS

New York Stocks
NEW YORK, April 18.—Further declines in several of the munition stocks and very slow trading in the stock market today. Crucible opened at $6 3/4, off 3-8; United States Steel $2 7/8, off 1-8 and Baldwin 97 1/4, off 3-4. Mexican Petroleum opened 10 1/2, off 1-2. Marine pfd. ascended to 74 1/4 to 1-2 as against a close of 73 3/4.

There was considerable rally just before noon, but due apparently entirely to professional trading. Munition stocks generally picked up and there was good buying in some of the specialties, especially Mercantile Marine preferred, which gained a point. Reading and other railroads were firm. The market was still awaiting definite Mexican news.

After a monotonous hour and a half of afternoon trading, Baldwin Locomotive declined to 95, a new low for the year. Other "war brides" then came under selling pressure.

The market closed dull.

Chicago Grain Review

CHICAGO, April 18.—Wheat prices rallied today after a bearish dip at the opening, caused by scattered selling and weather conditions.

The market braced when commission men placed heavy orders. May wheat was up 3/4c at 114 1/4, July up 3/4c at 113 1/4, and September up 1/2c at 111 1/4.

Corn, unchanged at the opening, was in great demand later, higher cables lending a firm tone. May corn was up 1/4c at 76 1/4; July up 3/4c at 76 1/4c and September down 1/4c at 76 1/4c.

Oats sold slightly higher. May up 1/4c at 45 1/4c; July up 1/4c at 43 1/4c and September unchanged at 39 1/4c.

Provisions sold slow but were slightly higher.

GERMANY GIVEN CHANCE TO STOP FURTHER CRISES

Note Is Complete and Was to Go Forward Today; Congress to Be Told of Contents

REICHSTAG TO TAKE A HAND

German Public Opinion Is Again Hostile to United States as Wilson Sends Note

WASHINGTON, April 18.—Possibility of delay in the dispatch of the president's latest—and perhaps last—communication to the German government appeared this afternoon, following the cabinet meeting at which it was read, it is possible that final wording of the document awaits the conference between Ambassador Von Bernstorff and Secretary Lansing this afternoon. That Bernstorff who has been reported in press dispatches to have received fresh instructions from his government, may inject some new light on the situation which might alter the course of this government's action.

Expected to Go Forward

WASHINGTON, April 18.—The cables were expected to carry today a final declaration to Germany of America's views on submarine warfare, as conceived and drafted by President Wilson and Secretary of State Lansing.

The document, of possible far-reaching consequences—breaking of relations, perhaps—is complete. The Berlin foreign office is expected to know its message Thursday night or Friday morning. The American public probably will read it Friday afternoon, simultaneously with publication in Germany.

The president and Secretary Lansing at a conference early today went over the final draft together.

It is still the profound hope of administration officials that a break with Germany may be avoided. The communication leaves the way perfectly clear for Germany to take such action as will preclude the possibility of further dangerous situations between the two governments.

The president cites not only those ships attacked during the last ten months with Americans aboard, but also certain neutral vessels of other nations attacked during the same interval.

Through Senator Stone and others in congress, who handle questions bearing on foreign relations, the president was to communicate today to congress the nature of his note to Germany.

It has been intimated in the past that before the president took a final decisive step that might involve the country in war, he would make known his course to congress.

The cabinet meeting today, there was reason to believe, would not be devoted to consideration of the communication. The cabinet members gave their approval last Friday of action being taken, the note, in rough form, being laid before them.

That the alleged abuse of the international law and the principles of humanity is a continuing, live issue was brought home, administration leaders said today, by yesterday's news of the Austrian submarine attack on the Russian bark Imperator.

An American citizen having been injured by shrapnel fire, full investigation was ordered by the state department.

BARBERS ADMIT HAIRCUT PRICE LIKELY WILL RISE

Better lay in a stock of haircuts. Mr. Man, for after May 1 they are likely to cost ten cents more. Barbers who attended a meeting between the union and the employers last night, at which the new wage scale was discussed, admitted today there is a good chance that haircuts will cost 35 instead of 25 cents after the first.

Whether the cost of clipping will soar depends upon the recommendations to be decided upon Thursday night by a joint committee of the journeymen barbers, the journeymen proprietors and the "boss" barbers. The meeting last night was unable to agree upon a scale of hours and wages, and the committee was appointed to settle the differences.

The journeymen barbers are represented by Walter Wagner, Frank Culver, F. W. Lehman and J. J. Robinson. The journeymen-proprietors on the committee are H. J. Kinder, J. W. Heinze, Charles Stiegel and Harold Eviem. The "bosses" are William Webb, Charles Darling, J. W. Dennison and Zack Moss.

The findings of the committee Thursday night will be reported to a special meeting of the union and employers a week from Thursday.

MAKES APPEAL OF LEAGUE POSSIBLE

MADISON, Wis., April 18.—On appeal that the case might be appealed to the supreme court, Judge J. C. Felhardt of the local municipal court today granted the motion of T. C. Richmond, Madison, to quash the indictment against the Home Rule and Taxpayers' league. The league is charged with failure to file campaign expenses under the corrupt practices act. The contention of the defendants is that they do not come under the law.

ENGINE STOPS WORKING AND CRASH COMES BEFORE ON-COMING TRAIN COULD BE WARNED

NEW HAVEN, Conn., April 18.—At least five persons were killed, some of them burned beyond recognition and thirty-four persons were injured in the collision between the Gilt-edge express of the New Haven railroad and a local train at Bradford station, six miles east of Westbury, R. I., last night.

These revised figures were announced at the New Haven offices here today.

The known dead are: Mrs. O. Martell, about 40 years old, Southbridge, Mass.

Miss J. Clark, Westbury, R. I.

Three unidentified bodies recovered from the wreck so badly charred that it could not be determined whether they were men or women.

All of the killed were passengers. According to the road's official announcement, thirty-four were injured, three seriously. These three are at the Memorial hospital in New London. The other injured were able to proceed on their journey.

Two men known to have been aboard the wrecked train are missing.

The Boston to New London local in which the dead were passengers was standing at the Bradford station. Its flagman, had run back to place a torpedo on the track to warn the on-coming Boston to New York limited. He had to jump to avoid being struck. The train crashed into the local at about fifty miles an hour. A burst of flame followed the crash and soon all four coaches of the local were ablaze. The fire spread to the passenger depot and freight house. The buildings with the four coaches were totally destroyed.

ENGINE WENT DEAD

The engine of the local train went "dead" at Bradford. The conductor then told the passengers that the express would be along in a few minutes to take them on. He had hardly finished his trip through the train when the crash came.

PECK FUNERAL THIS AFTERNOON

Funeral services for George W. Peck, former governor of Wisconsin, who died on Sunday, were held this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the Scottish Rite cathedral in Milwaukee. The services were in charge of Wisconsin lodge No. 13, F. and A. M., of which Mr. Peck was a member. Wisconsin commandery No. 1, Knight Templar, acted as an escort to Wisconsin lodge. Members of the Loyal Legion and E. B. Wolcott post, G. A. R., attended. A committee from the Jefferson club to attend the funeral was appointed by President F. J. Rowan on Monday as follows: A. J. Schmitz, Leopold Hammel, Vincent J. Schoenecker, Jr., Max W. Nohl, Hubert O. Wolfe.

At the entrance to Forest Home cemetery, where burial took place, the body was met by the Light Horse squadron and a squad from Troop A, who escorted it to the grave, where a rifle salute was fired and "taps" sounded by a trumpeter.

The following were the honorary pallbearers: Col. W. J. Boyle, Dr. H. M. Brown, Judge Paul D. Carpenter, Gen. J. B. Doe, Col. Thomas P. Dever, Gen. Otto H. Falk, Dr. A. W. Gray, Judge L. W. Halsey, Charles Henning, Gen. Charles King, George A. Lougee of Madison, E. J. Lindsey, Col. George W. Mathes, William MacLaren, E. L. Pierce, L. W. Nieman, L. J. Pettit, Werner Presentine of Duluth, Isaac Stephenson, P. R. Sanborn, the Rev. Judson Titsworth and A. S. Ludlow of Waukesha.

According to a dispatch from Madison Monday night, Gov. E. L. Phillips and former Gov. James O. Davidson were to attend the funeral. Former Governors F. E. McGovern of Milwaukee and Edward Scofield of Oconto were expected to attend, but former Gov. W. D. Hoard of Port Atkinson is too feeble to attend. W. H. Upham is in the south and cannot reach Milwaukee in time for the funeral and Senator R. M. La Follette is in Washington attending the sessions of the senate.

believed. Also, return of William Freise, stage manager, from a billposting trip to Southern Minnesota towns, yesterday afternoon upset the story that he had remained in the theater until 4 o'clock Monday morning.

Freise left the theater with William McMahon and at 11:30 Sunday night, boarded a freight train at the north side, he told the police.

Safe was Unlocked

The outer door of the safe was not locked, Chief Webber said today, and the only obstacle encountered by the yeggman was the combination lock on the strongbox inside the safe.

A so-called "burglar-proof" arrangement. The outer door, however, was blown off by the force of the explosion which destroyed the lock on the strongbox, the chief believes. Since the outer door was not locked, the thief was able to reduce the noise of his blast to a minimum.

Chief Webber said today, by closing the safe after lighting the fuse to the charge set on the inner door. The bump that Behrens heard, the chief now thinks, was the crash of the outer door when it was torn off. The noise of the actual explosion was almost inaudible, because of its suppression within the tight steel walls, the chief thinks.

HOLD TEDDY DINNER WITH GREAT NEGRO AGAINST CANDIDATE

NEW ORLEANS, La., April 18.—The Roosevelt-Booker T. Washington dinner at the white house, when the former was president, is the issue in Louisiana's gubernatorial election today. The dinner brought much opposition to John M. Parker, progressive. Parker usually entertains Roosevelt on the latter's visits here.

The independent democratic forces were not supporting Ruffin G. Pleasant, regular democratic candidate according to early returns.

COFFMAN TAKES SENTENCE

Joseph Coffman, Negro laborer, was sentenced to serve three months in county jail here today. Coffman was charged with a statutory offense. He at first pleaded not guilty and was bound over to circuit court. The plea was changed today.

LONE PIRATE WILL RECEIVE SENTENCE

WILMINGTON, Del., April 18.—Ernst Schiller, the lone pirate who captured the British steamship Matopopo off Sandy Hook on March 29 last, will be sentenced in the United States court here this afternoon by Judge Bradford. Schiller pleaded guilty to a charge of piracy when arranged today.

PROTECTION OF SOLDIERS CHIEF CONSIDERATION

Parral Incident and Withdrawal Request Cause Officials to Look to Their Fighters

PERSHING MAKES A SHIFT

Commander in the Interior Moves to Namiquipa Between Communication Lines for Watch

BY E. T. CONKLE (United Press Staff Correspondent.)

EL PASO, Texas, April 18.—The Villa hunt is now a secondary matter. Protection of the United States troops in Mexico is the main thing. General Pershing is understood today to have made the above report to General Funston.

The question whether the body presumably being taken into Chihuahua is that of Villa was still considered important but safety of the American expedition, following the Parral incident and the withdrawal request from General Carranza was uppermost in the minds of army chiefs along the border.

General Pershing has left his advanced base at Satevo and returned to his Namiquipa staff headquarters. At Namiquipa about midway along the lines of communication, he can keep a closer watch on the situation and better direct his army. No American troops are now believed to be south of Santa Cruz.

If Villa is not dead but has escaped into Durango, as formerly reported, the American pursuit has apparently been halted. If the body reported exhumed west of Satevo is not Villa's neither the United States or the Mexican authorities have any adequate idea of the bandit chief's whereabouts, they admitted today.

Depend on Identification

If Colonel Carlos Carranza who knows Villa intimately, identifies the corpse as Villa, the United States is expected to accept the identification and recall the troops. No obstacles are expected to be placed in the way of American officials also identifying the body but if the de facto government officially announces confirmation of Villa's death government officials here today did not see how it could be disputed.

In connection with precautionary measures to insure the safety of the United States expeditionary forces, army men pointed out that interventionists anxious to prevent withdrawal have circulated exaggerated and alarming reports of destruction of American property in northern Mexico.

May Alter Plans

WASHINGTON, April 18.—Withdrawal of American forces from Mexico within the next month is likely. Such action may be taken without accomplishing the original mandate—get Villa; but the step will not be taken until war department orders to break up Villa's band are fulfilled or until Carranzistas are fully able to take up the chase.

This government feels that already it has accomplished an enormous task. It has driven Villa and his men 400 miles beyond the border; it has robbed Villa of any glorification among his folk for being the first Mexican in about half a century to invade the United States and kill "gringos"; again, it has checked the likelihood of any revolution in the northern Mexican states, has virtually assured against border raids for some time to come, and has about accomplished the task of scattering Villa's bands.

Carranza Stands Pat

General Carranza, until he receives a formal reply, is inclined to stand pat on his suggestion that United States troops withdraw, a message to the state department from Consul Rodgers reported the de facto government is disinclined to discuss the matter further pending the arrival of the expected reply.

DEATH LINER SUNK WITHOUT WARNING SAYS ADMIRALTY

LONDON, April 18.—The British liner Zent, which sunk with a loss of forty-nine lives, was torpedoed without warning, an admiralty investigation disclosed today. It was also announced that the Dutch steamer Ejdijk, beached on the coast of England, was the victim of an enemy submarine.

The Dutch steamer was most conspicuously marked. She carried the Dutch colors painted on her sides in four places and a rigid ensign on the foremast and mainmast. Her name and port of registry were painted in large letters on her side.

Fragments of steel and brass found in her hull leave no room for doubt that she was torpedoed, the investigation disclosed.

LANSING BRIDGE BILL NOW LAW

That both house of congress have passed the bill allowing the building of a high bridge across the Mississippi at Lansing, Iowa, and that the bill has been signed by the president, was the word brought here today by Attorney J. P. Conway of Lansing, one of the men interested in the project.

"The structure is to cost about $125,000," said Attorney Conway. "It is to be one of the links in the proposed scenic highway from Dubuque north along the river shore to Minneapolis. It will allow automobiles to take either bank of the Mississippi from Lansing to La Crosse."

WISCONSIN BOYS DREAM OF WEALTH NOW COMES TRUE

Oklahoma Oil Well Returns
Him $100,000 with a Round Million in Sight

CASHTON, Wis., April 18.—A boy of 20 left Cashton fifteen years ago "to win a fortune or bust" he told his friends he left behind. His name was Roy M. Johnson. In a few years he wrote from Battle Creek, Mich., saying he had become a linotype operator. Cashton forgave him for not winning a fortune and respected him for becoming a well paid skilled workman.

Now comes news to Cashton that the Johnson fortune materialized. An Oklahoma oil well has speeded $100,000 into the pockets of the former linotype operator and it bids fair to become a million before many years have passed.

Two Wells Yield $5,000 Daily
The daily income of two producing companies in the Healdton field in which Johnson is a heavy stockholder is more than $5,000. Within twelve months from this date these companies—the Crystal Oil company—will have produced about $20,000,000 of wealth for their stockholders. In ten years, should the wells on property he owns in fee continue their present rate of production, considering the natural gradual increase from more drilling, he will have made $1,000,000 out of an investment of less than $1,000.

Mortgaged His Print Shop
Johnson had a little printing plant in Ardmore, Okla., with which he circulated a weekly newspaper called the Ardmore Statesman and he mortgaged the plant and some other belongings to get the money necessary to obtain the first oil lease on land near the inland village of Healdton. The land produced oil.

In due time, at a United States government sale of Indian land, Johnson bought seven tracts, ranging in price from $3.25 to $12 an acre, the initial payment totaling $195. These tracts proved to be located in highly productive territory.

Still Investing
"I haven't any hunches," says Johnson. "As a matter of fact I have no faith in hunches, but I believe that the present proven field about Healdton is not all the producing territory in this part of southern Oklahoma. I am therefore putting part of my earnings into wells in new territory. I may get a few dry wells, but I believe some territory will be opened as good or better than the Healdton field."

LOOK AT CHILD'S TONGUE IF SICK CROSS, FEVERISH

When constipated or bilious give "California Syrup of Figs."

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, it is a sure sign that your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once.

When peevish, cross, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, doesn't eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad; has stomach-ache, sore throat, diarrhoea, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, undigested food and soft bile gently moves out of its little bowels without grating, and you have a well, playful child again.

You needn't coax sick children to take this harmless "fruit laxative;" they love its delicious taste, and it always makes them feel splendid.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeiters sold here. To be sure you get the genuine, ask to see that it is made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

BRANDEIS FAVORED COMMITTEE AGREES TO GIVE REPORT

WASHINGTON, April 18.—Developments favorable to Louis D. Brandeis marked Monday's session of the senate investigating committee.

It was agreed to vote within a week or ten days and report favorably or unfavorably to the senate. Previously a plan to smother the matter in committee had been feared. Senators Hoke Smith and Borah, who have been regarded as doubtful or unfriendly, appeared more inclined to favor confirmation.

IT'S THE FIGHTS THAT BRING 'EM BACK TO FILM

"It's the wealth of detail with which the battle and other fights are staged that makes people come again and again to see the "Birth of a Nation," according to T. E. Hughes, manager of the big dramatic spectacle, in discussing the invariable success of the film when playing return dates. "It's something like the eagerness with which a baseball fan or a foot ball enthusiast reads the newspaper accounts of games he has seen."

"When the average person sees a football game, for instance, he comes away with just a general impression about it. He remembers the final score, and perhaps one or two spectacular plays. But all the rest is blurred until he gets the newspaper, and then as he reads the detailed account he lives through it all over again. All the fine points that he saw in flashes, and which he has forgotten except in his subconscious mind, come back to him again, and he enjoys the game as much or even more than when he actually saw it."

"With this picture, seeing it again is even more satisfying. The man who has been once knows what to look for. He's on the lookout to catch some face in the scene of Lincoln and his cabinet, for instance, or some detail of the mad tangle of the battle 'close-ups,' which he's been kicking himself for overlooking the first time, and regretting ever since."

"The Birth of a Nation" will be at the Majestic all next week, playing two performances daily, a matinee at 2:30, and evening performance beginning at 8:15. Seat sale opens at the box office Thursday morning.

COAST GUARDS TO USE AEROPLANES IN RESCUE WORK

WASHINGTON, April 18.—The coast guard service within a week will utilize aeroplanes to pick up steamers in distress.

Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Newton, in returning from a trip to Glenn Curtiss' aviation school at Newport News, Va., announced that aeroplanes will be used experimentally at the Norfolk station.

When the coast guard is notified of a vessel in distress an aeroplane will find the vessel, fly back and tell a cutter of its location. Then the aeroplane will convey the cutter to the scene.

BERLIN, via wireless to Sayville, April 18.—The Dutch government has sent another protest to England against the detention of Dutch mail, alleging that registered letters containing valuables have been detained, dispatches from The Hague reported Monday. The Dutch government demands the return of the letter and compensation. A similar note was addressed to France.

Remedy Prescribed by Many Doctors

Compound of Simple Laxative Herbs
Proves Most Efficient.

Dr. W. A. Evans, writing for the Chicago Tribune, makes the assertion that practically everyone, at some time or other, suffers from constipation. This applies regardless of age or condition in life.

The congestion of stomach waste in the bowels is evidence in various ways; bloating, eructation of foul stomach gases, sick headache, languor, all indicate constipation, and call for prompt attention, not only to relieve the present discomfort but also to avoid possible disease that follows neglect of this important function.

Harsh cathartics and violent purgatives should not be employed, as these afford only temporary relief, while they serve to shock the entire system. A mild laxative such as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is far preferable and is now the remedy generally used and prescribed by many doctors. It is free from opiate or narcotic drugs, acts easily and pleasantly, without griping or other pain and is a safe, effective family remedy.

Mr. Chas. Schell, 132 Church St., Grenada, Miss., writes that he found relief himself by using Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and now keeps it on hand for family use. A bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin should have a place in every family medicine chest. A trial bottle can be obtained, free of charge, by writing to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 454 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois.

Take Iron, Says Doctor, if You Want Plenty of "Stay There" Strength Like an Athlete!

Ordinary Nuxated Iron Will Make Delicate, Nervous, Rundown People 200% Stronger in Two Weeks' Time, in May Cases

NEW YORK, N. Y.—Most people foolishly seem to think they are going to get renewed health and strength from some stimulating medicine, secret nostrum or narcotic drug, said Dr. Sauer, a specialist in this city, when, as a matter of fact, real and true strength can only come from the food you eat. But people often fail to get the strength out of their food because they haven't enough iron in their blood to enable it to change food into living matter. From their weakened, nervous condition they know something is wrong, but they can't tell what, so they generally commence doctoring for stomach, liver or kidney trouble or symptoms of some other ailment caused by the lack of iron in the blood. This thing may go on for years, while the patient suffers untold agony. If you are not strong or well, you owe it to yourself to make the following test. See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two five grain tablets of ordinary nuxated iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see for yourself how much you have gained. I have seen dozens of nervous, rundown people who were ailing all the while, double and even triple their strength and endurance and entirely get rid of all symptoms of dyspepsia, liver and other troubles in from ten to fourteen days' time simply by taking iron in the proper form, and this after they had in some cases been doctoring for months without obtaining any benefit. But don't take the old forms of reduced iron, iron acetate or tincture of iron simply to save a few cents. You must take iron in a form that can be easily absorbed and assimilated like nuxated iron if you want it to do you any good, otherwise it may prove worse than useless. Many an athlete or prize fighter has won the day simply because he knew the secret of great strength and endurance and filled his blood with iron before he went into the arena, while many another has gone down to ignominious defeat simply for the lack of iron.

NOTE.—Nuxated Iron recommended above by Dr. Sauer, is one of the newer organic iron compounds. Unlike the older inorganic iron products, it is easily assimilated, does not injure the teeth, make them black, nor upset the stomach; on the contrary, it is a most potent remedy, in nearly all forms of indigestion, as well as for nervous, rundown conditions. The Manufacturers have such great confidence in Nuxated Iron that they offer to forfeit $100.00 to any charitable institution if they cannot take any man or woman under 60 who lacks iron and increase their strength 200 per cent, or over in four weeks' time provided they have no serious organic trouble. They also offer to refund your money if it does not at least double your strength and endurance in ten days' time. It is dispensed in this city by Mariner's Pharmacy and all other druggists.

BREWER COMPANY LOOKS TO FUTURE AND BUILDS BIG

Noonday luncheon Makes for Mutual Understanding of Citizens and Light and Power Men

BURTON MAKES THE RESPONSE

Business Men Deeply Impressed with Plans and Attitude of Mr. Brewer and His Associates

Joseph H. Brewer, president of the Wisconsin-Minnesota Light & Power company, divided with George W. Burton the applause of the diners at the noonday luncheon which Mr. Brewer gave at the Stoddard hotel to the visiting Boston financiers and La Crosse business men. The Boston bankers are representatives of the houses that carry the bonds of the Brewer enterprises.

Mr. Brewer made a deep impression. He pointed to the company's liberal expenditures in La Crosse as evidence of the good faith of the enterprise and to substantiate his declaration that his concern is laying the foundations for growing business in a city which he believes will grow substantially. He promised that within two years the Chippewa water power plant, now building at a cost of $3,000,000 would give LaCrosse cheaper power, constant and adequate.

Forty businessmen who partook of the dinner applauded vigorously. Mr. Burton responded briefly, letting it be known that the La Crosse gentlemen accepted at its face value Mr. Brewer's statement of the plans and hopes of his company and his promise for the future. He was interested in Mr. Brewer's explanation that while Grand Rapids is the home office of the companies and Eau Claire the Wisconsin central office, the plants are so closely linked that they must prosper alike and that therefore La Crosse would have its full share of attention.

In conclusion Mr. Burton said he could see at a glance that the Boston gentlemen had bonds to sell, and he warned them that La Crosse had need of its capital to develop plants that would use the power of the company. The Boston bankers appreciated both the humor and the suggestion, and joined in the laugh. Fifteen autos took the visitors about the city and they returned deeply impressed with the possibilities of La Crosse.

DES MOINES HAS MURDER MYSTERY

DES MOINES, Iowa, April 18.—Mr. and Mrs. Ben Dudi, brought here from Minneapolis on a murder charge, have been released, and Des Moines has a real murder mystery. When a six weeks old dead baby was found on a dump near the city, the Dudis who had just gone to Chicago had neglected the baby and identified the dead child as theirs. The Dudis were brought back, said they never saw the dead baby before and that their child had died in Minneapolis. The police ridiculed this statement until Coroner Koons went to Minneapolis, disinterred the dead baby and discovered that the Dudi's were telling the truth. Koons said the two babies greatly resembled each other.

CHICAGO, April 18.—Women swimmers will be given a chance at Central Amateur Athletic union championships for the first time in its history. It was announced here today, when the board managers decided to stage eight women's events at the outdoor swimming meet at Put-in-Bay, July 18, 19 and 20.

FORCED "PHONE" ON FELLOWS

NEW YORK, April 18.—James Buchanan Brady, otherwise "Diamond Jim," wearing $205,000 worth of diamonds, made his first after-dinner speech here at the Restaurant's banquet and also "recited." He read a poem he wrote himself, had copies printed in advance and the diners could not get their coats out of the check room without accepting one. The "poem" was in glorification of Broadway.

Croffers or Fried Cakes

Never Greasy
By Mrs. Janet McKenzie Hill, Editor of the Boston Cooking School Magazine

Everyone likes fried cakes or croffers. Here's a very superior recipe. Follow directions closely—success is certain.

KC Croffers or Fried Cakes
Three cups sifted flour; 1/2 level teaspoonful KC baking powder; 1/2 level teaspoonful salt; 2 eggs, beaten light; 1/2 cup granulated sugar; 3 tablespoons melted butter; 1/2 cup skimmed milk.

Sift together, three times, the flour, KC baking powder, salt and salt. Add the sugar, butter and milk to the beaten eggs and stir into the dry ingredients to make a stiff dough. Knead slightly; then cut with fried cake cutter. Drop into a deep kettle filled with hot fat; drain on soft paper or colander and roll in powdered sugar.

To fry have fat at smoking point, turn croffers several times while frying to insure all parts being equally light and thoroughly cooked.

By all means, send for the KC Cook's Book—it's free and it contains 50 just such appetizing recipes. Send the colored certificate packet in 25-cent coin to the JACQUES MFC. Co., Chicago, and write name and address plainly.

WE'RE IN BAD IN COLOMBIA OVER T. R.'S REVOLT

Pine Creek Native Back from South American Mine Says Colombia Don't Want to Deal with Us

Colombia is doing business with the United States just now because she has to, but Americans are in bad odor, owing to national ill-feeling over the methods by which the Roosevelt administration gained the Panama canal zone, according to Charles Dodge, a native of Pine Creek, Minn., who arrived in La Crosse today from the Pato Mines, in Colombia. Mr. Dodge was accompanied by Leon Delgado, another employee of the mining company.

"Americans who want to invest in Colombia have to do it through British companies," said Mr. Dodge. "It is known that American capital is seeking to come into the country, obstacles are put in the way of getting concessions or purchasing land. Colombia is very much incensed over the Panama incident. They believe that Roosevelt deliberately fomented the so-called revolution on the isthmus, in order that he might get the canal zone at less than Colombia's price."

Mr. Dodge and Mr. Delgado will spend a few days in southern Minnesota, visiting some of the former's relatives. Then they intend to visit mining districts in Colorado and California, to watch the methods in use. They are employed by the Pato-Nechi Mines, Ltd., a British corporation, with dredge-workings on the headwaters of the Nechi river, 380 miles inland from the Colombian seacoast.

PARLIAMENT CRISIS ON SERVICE ISSUE IS DELAYED A DAY

Rumors Are Lloyd George and Others Demanding Conscription Will Quit if Demands Fail

BY ED L. KEEN
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)
LONDON, April 18.—A possible crisis in the cabinet has been delayed until at least tomorrow by the official announcement that Premier Asquith will not make his expected statement on recruiting, in commons this afternoon.

The premier is using all his powers of conciliation to prevent the possible resignations of those members of the ministry who are determined upon a policy of general conscription. Rumors were flying that Minister of Munitions David Lloyd George, Secretary for the Colonies Bonar Law, and Lord Curzon are about to resign. Nothing definite was known except that the cabinet failed yesterday afternoon to adopt Lloyd George's suggestion for general conscription at once and that the meeting adjourned with the ministry badly split and Premier Asquith holding the upper hand.

Lloyd George told his colleagues that the allies' chances of winning the war are seriously threatened by a shortage of men.

The special meeting of the cabinet this forenoon was called in an effort to reconcile the divergent elements. In anti-ministerial quarters, it was reported that Lloyd George and Lord Curzon would accept no compromise.

SHORT MEASURE IN LUMBER HELD CAUSE OF TRADE SHORTAGE

WASHINGTON, April 18.—Were it not for constant complaints from South Americans that they were "short measured," American lumbermen could greatly increase their already large exports, declares a commerce department report today. Uruguay, Argentina and Brazil, although well forested themselves, import 349,000,000 feet of yellow pine from the United States annually.

Special Agent Roger E. Simmons reported he found in an investigation of the Southern American market that almost every cargo of yellow pine resulted in measurement complaints by buyers. A cargo customarily costs the buyer $850 for his own measurement.

Lumbermen of the Pacific coast have no such trouble dealing with the west coast of South America, reported Simmons.

GREECE WITHHOLDS PERMISSION FOR USE OF RAILROADS

ATHENS, April 18.—The Greek government thus far has made no formal reply to the request of the allies for use of the railways in transporting Serbian troops from Corfu to Salonika. It is generally believed, however, that the request will be refused.

IS THIS REFLECTION OF GASOLINE RISE?

CLEVELAND, O., April 18.—Directors of the Standard Oil company of Ohio today announced a special meeting for May 5, to authorize a $3,500,000 melon, or 100 per cent, to consist of new stock.

The announcement said that since the company's surplus was now almost twice the amount of stock outstanding, the melon was justified. The company's balance sheet of December 31 last shows a surplus of $6,749,953 and total assets of $12,951,706.

Current earnings due to the high price of gasoline and other petroleum products are said to be the highest in the history of the concern.

MEXICAN AGREES WITH THE JUDGE

Joseph Gonzales, Mexican laborer who made off with a furlined overcoat belonging to Edward Olson, Bangor, was yesterday afternoon sentenced to nine months in county jail. Gonzales was employed on a section crew of the Milwaukee railroad. He said "alright" in good English when Judge John Brindley sentenced him.

STEEL WAGES RAISED

NEW YORK, April 18.—Wage increases of about ten per cent to employees of its iron and steel companies, effective May 1, were announced today by the United States Steel corporation.

"In view of the continuance of prosperous conditions it has been decided to make advances in the wage rate of our iron and steel companies of about ten per cent to take effect May 1," a statement from Judge Gary's office announced.

HOLD ALLEGED CON MAN

OTTUMWA, Ia., April 18.—The arrest of Harry W. Rosene at Princeton, Ill., Monday was declared by the local police to have disclosed a confidence game.

On April 7 Rosene came here and is said to have represented himself to be D. F. Ossian of Princeton, owner of a large farm near Cantril, Iowa. He applied to Senator J. F. Webber for a loan of $6,000 and signed a mortgage and note for that amount. He was to receive the money last Saturday, the day an investigation was started.

"THE SOUL MARKET" IS STRONG PLAY

"The Soul Market," a sensational five part Metro wonderplay produced by Popular Plays and Players, in which the gifted emotional actress, Mme. Petrova, is seen in the stellar role, will be presented upon the screen here at the Casino theater today and at the Strand tomorrow.

"The Soul Market" deals with life along the Great White Way, and behind the scenes of a big Broadway theater. There are scores of interesting scenes in this production, decidedly novel and unusual. The photoplay was written by Aaron Hoffman, the well known author and playwright, and directed by Francis J. Grandon.

Mme. Petrova essays the role of "Elaine Elton," a musical comedy prima donna, who becomes disgusted with her environment, and looks upon the gay life around her as a repetition of the ancient Babylonian days, when girl slaves were sold in the open market to the highest bidder.

Mme. Petrova is supported by an excellent cast in "The Soul Market," among whom are Arthur Hoops, former leading man for Mary Pickford and Marguerite Clark; Wilbur Merkl, former leading man for Helen Warner; Betty Nansen and Marguerite Clark; Gypsy O'Brien, a newcomer in motion pictures; Fritz de Lint, Fraunie Fraunholz and Evelyn Brent.

JOHNSON DRIVEN TO CLUBHOUSE BY BOSTON SLUGGERS

Walter Has Off Day and Loses; White Sox Win Game of Many Errors

BOSTON, April 18.—The Boston Americans on Monday performed the rare feat of driving Walter Johnson from the box, in defeating Washington, 5 to 1. In the sixth inning, Boston hammered the delivery of the Washington star for a double and four singles in a row, netting four runs. Score: R H E Washington . . . 00000001—1 8 2 Boston . . . 10000400—5 12 0 Batteries: Johnson, Dumont, Ayers and Williams; Ruth and Thomas.

Sox 6; Browns 5
CHICAGO, April 18.—Pinch hitters won on Monday for the White Sox a game their regulars tried to throw away. A single by Ness, batting for Williams in the ninth, drove in the tying run and Lynn, batting for Cicotte in the eleventh, sent in the run that gave Chicago the game over St. Louis, 6 to 5. The visitors took a lead of five runs in the first three innings, mainly the result of errors. Twice in the first Schalk threw wild on attempted sacrifice hits, and twice when Danforth caught a runner off first, Fournier's errors allowed him to advance a base. Score: R H E St. Louis . . . 3100000000—5 9 1 Chicago . . . 00031000101—6 11 8 Batteries: Davenport, Wellman, Hartley, Danforth, Williams, Cicotte and Schalk.

ST. LOUIS, April 18.—Doak was hit hard and Chicago won easily from St. Louis here on Monday, 5 to 1. With the score tied in the sixth, Saiier hit a home run into the right field pavilion, scoring Williams ahead of him. A double, single, sacrifice hit and Snyder's error produced two more in the seventh and proved the undoing of Doak. Score: R H E Chicago . . . 100002200—5 10 1 St. Louis . . . 010000000—1 8 4 Batteries: Vaughn and Fischer; Doak, Steele, Ames, Snyder and Gonzales.

Pirates 10; Reds 1
CINCINNATI, O., April 18.—In a one sided contest, Pittsburgh won the second game of the series from Cincinnati here on Monday, 10 to 1. The visitors started the run making in the first inning with two bases on balls, two singles and two doubles which netted five runs and retirement of Dale. Score: R H E Pittsburgh . . . 530000200—10 13 0 Cincinnati . . . 000001000—1 5 0 Batteries: Kautlehner and Schmidt; Dale, Moseley and Clarke.

Wanted: One first-class alibi for Walter Johnson, who was hammered for eleven hits in six innings by the notorious Red Sox, thus shattering a fond illusion.

YOUNG COVELESKIE LOSES BUT MAKES TIGERS WORK HARD

Brother of Tiger Hurler Bids for Place with First Strong Pitchers

CLEVELAND, O., April 18.—Having held the mighty swatters of Jennings' to one run in eleven innings, Stanley Coveleskie, young spitballer recruited from Portland, was bidding hard today for a regular turn for the first string Indian hurlers.

After his brother Harry Coveleskie refused to pitch for Detroit, fearing he might send Stanley back to the minors, the youngster showed his class by striking out six men, including Cobb and Veach, issuing but two passes, got six assists and figured in one double-play.

Detroit bunched five hits off Stanley Coveleskie in the twelfth inning, and defeated Cleveland 3 to 1. Coveleskie had pitched great ball up to that time and had been spectacularly supported. Cunningham was very effective against Cleveland. Speaker was the only one he could not puzzle, the former Boston man getting four hits and scoring Cleveland's only run. Score: R H E Cleveland . . . 000100000000—1 9 3 Detroit . . . 000010000002—3 13 1 Batteries: Coveleskie and O'Neill; Cunningham and Stange.

FEDERALS' DEMISE WILL SPELL LUCRE FOR ASSOCIATION

CHICAGO, April 18.—Unusual financial success is in sight for the American association, which opened its season today according to predictions of the organization's magnates. President Tom Chivington, who was at Toledo last night, attending a banquet in honor of Roger Bresnahan, owner of the New Toledo club, predicted that the exit of the Federals would give the American association new life.

Opening games today are scheduled as follows:
Kansas City at Columbus.
Milwaukee at Toledo.
St. Paul at Indianapolis.
Minneapolis at Louisville.

WATCHING THE SCOREBOARD

Yesterday's homer: Vic Saiier of the Cubs, of Doak of the Cardinals. A small helping of the laurel please, for Tris Speaker. Four hits yesterday.

The St. Louis Browns have absorbed some of that hitless wonder stuff. Five runs in three innings on four hits.

Those White Sox are persistent cusses. It took them eleven innings to crawl out of a hole the Browns dug with a five run lead.

Hal Chase batted zero.
The Cincinnati Reds walked the plank when the Pirate sluggers let go. Honus Wagner contributed a triple and a single.
Nineteen errors were made yesterday in five games. The White Sox contributed eight.

Mal Galvin and Ray Clarke, White Sox pitchers, have been released to the Hannibal, Mo., Three-I league club.
Cy Falkenberg, originator of the emery ball, will try a come-back. Jack Henricks of the Indianapolis American association club, has signed the former Federal and Cleveland American pitcher.

FANS ANXIOUS AS SEASON'S OPENER SLOWLY ARRIVES

Nelsons and Athletes Mix at League Park in Another Race for the City Title

Patiently awaiting the call of "Play ball" at league park Sunday, La Crosse fans are anticipating the opening of the local season, when the Nelson Clothing company, runners-up for the city championship last year, clash with the W. B. U. Athletes, a reorganization of the Athletes of last year, with Al Evenson, formerly with the Nelsons, as manager.

The teams will be more closely matched this year than ever before, is the opinion of followers of the sport. Many members of last year's champion Clothiers have been acquired by the Nelsons and Athletes. Fitzki, who won the deciding game last fall for the Clothiers after losing the first, will don a Nelson uniform. Gene and John Fuchs, outfielders, with Nick Bartl's crew, are being sought by both teams. Tanke, who caught for the Clothiers, will probably be with the Athletes. Sickles for the Nelsons and Copey for the Athletes is the probable pitching choices for the opener. Both men led their respective staffs last year. Childers and Satek will work behind the bat.

FORMER GOVERNOR SEEKS SENATORSHIP

Chester H. Aldrich.

Former Governor Chester H. Aldrich of Lincoln is one of the two Republican candidates for the Republican nomination for United States senator from Nebraska. He is opposed in the primaries by John L. Kennedy of Omaha, a former congressman. Both are of the ultra-progressive stripe.

FOREIGN HORSES ARRIVE

NEW YORK, April 18.—Twelve thoroughbred horses that were frequently winners in the big French classics, have arrived here on the Atlantic liner Kores and will be entered in American events this summer. Several are steeple chasers. In France they carried the colors of Joseph E. Widener. They will be raced by J. Howard Lewis here.

When a man quarrels with his wife he seldom gets a chance to say anything.

WHEN HILTON JONES MOVED

BY JANE OSBORN

(Copyright, 1916 by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)
"Why the blue blazes didn't any one see to having the new lights put in?" was what Hilton Jones was about to ask his stenographer, but just then Mrs. Hilton Jones appeared. She had been at her club for the afternoon, where she had been reading a paper on the economic independence of women, and she had just dropped around to take Hilton Jones home in her electric.

Seeing Mrs. Jones, white gloved and immaculate, Jones merely growled between his teeth to the stenographer and, nervously tum-tumming on his desk, welcomed his visitor with a kindly smile.

"I can't possibly go home now, dear," he said suavely. "We are right in the midst of moving. You, of course, can't imagine what that means, but you must understand that it takes much of my time. Now run along and don't be worried if I don't come home for several hours."

Mrs. Jones looked superficially over the offices that stretched out beyond and around that of Mr. Jones. "I don't see why it should be any more trouble than moving at home is," she said. And Mr. Jones merely smiled indulgently.

But Mrs. Jones had her way in one thing. If she were not able to take him home with her at least she would take him out to tea, and that would give him strength for the hours of work that stretched out before him.

At tea, amid the soft music, splashing fountain and subdued lights of their favorite hotel tea room, she told him of her success that afternoon, of her speech on the economic independence of woman, on the handshaking that followed, the congratulations and the thrill of achievement that went with it.

"And now," she said, "I am going to ask you something. You know I have very little to do. The boys are both in school where they are better off, no doubt, than they would be at home. I have servants enough to do the housework with a very few minutes a day of supervision. There is no longer any excuse for my remaining at home—and besides I want to be independent."

"Alice," gasped Hilton Jones in actual astonishment, "don't you love me?"

"Of course, you old dear," she said with the air of reproving one of her own children for asking a foolish question. "I love you to distraction, but I believe in it, and I want it to come true—this economic independence for which I have been making a stand at the club. You know, I have never had an allowance."

"But haven't you always had all you wanted?"

"Yes, yet it has always been mine to receive from you and never mine to give. I have never felt as if I could do anything of my own accord that money could accomplish. You gave me my electric limousine for Christmas, and all that I could do for you was to embroider some initials in handkerchiefs that I bought and had charge at your own haberdasher's. I have no money that is all my own. Now there is Mrs. Dawson—"

"Mrs. Dawson writes novels," put in Hilton, "and I suppose some publisher is bluffed into paying her for them, and Tom Granger's wife has taken to singing in cabarets, and old Tim Maloney's wife takes in washing. Which one of them do you envy most?"

"Then you don't like the idea of having me do anything for a living?"

"There is nothing exactly that you could do, is there?" Hilton said this very indulgently.

"And don't like the idea of putting me on an allowance?"

"You are my wife, not my employee. I owe you everything you want because of our love. I don't like the idea of being under actual obligations to you."

"But if I actually proved to you that I was of some business value?"

"That might make a different thing of it." And there the tea table conversation on economic independence ended.

Things were surely at sixes and sevens for there right in the middle of the mass of moving Hilton Jones had to go out of town for two days on pressing business. In fact, he had time only to rush home for a hasty dinner and get his bag—Alice always knew just what he wanted for his hurried trips—and went away. And no one was really at the helm to take up the confused task of moving after he had gone.

When Hilton Jones reached town again, two days later, he first called up his wife on the phone from the station. That was one of the little lover habits of his that made most women who knew her envy Mrs. Jones.

She was even more delighted at the sound of his voice than usual.

"I can't wait to see you," she told him. "So you won't mind if I come right to your office, will you?"

He was pleased at this sign of impatience. "But heaven only knows where my office is," he returned.

Resinol Stops
Itching At Once

It is a positive fact that the moment resinol ointment touches any itching skin, the itching usually stops and healing begins.

Unless the trouble is due to some serious internal condition, it quickly clears away all trace of eczema, ringworm, pimples, or similar tormenting, unsightly eruptions, leaving the skin clear and healthy.

And the best of it is you need never hesitate to use resinol soap and resinol ointment. There is nothing in them to injure the tenderest surface. Resinol is a doctor's prescription which for over twenty years has been used by careful physicians in treating skin affections. They prescribe resinol freely, knowing that its soothing, healing action is brought about by medication so bland and gentle as to be suited to the most delicate or irritated skin—even of a tiny baby. Every druggist sells resinol soap and resinol ointment. Samples free, Dept. 3-R, Resinol, Baltimore, Md.

"Better go right to the old place. No, on second thought, I want to get a look at the new place. We were to have moved out the first of the month—that was yesterday—but those blockheads at the office couldn't move without me. There is no one who can attend to such an undertaking but myself. I suppose by not getting out on the first we may have to pay another month's rent."

Mrs. Hilton Jones met her husband in the entrance hall of the new office building and together they went to the new rooms. Hilton Jones never got over his pride of being seen with his wife. She was so crisp and immaculate and spotless, even at that early hour of the morning.

He almost fell backward when he opened the door. For, although he knew himself to be in the new building, there were the old surroundings. The familiar face of the telephone operator was there at the switchboard. The green carpet was stretched and in place, the chairs for visitors were each one in its proper place. Partitions were up, desks were in order, and lights were in place. Everything was as Jones might have wished it to be after a month's time had elapsed. There was not a paper out of order, not a packing box to be seen.

It was Mrs. Jones who seemed to lead the way to his private office and there, as elsewhere, everything was in perfect order.

"I did it," she said, "and I'm not a bit the worse for the two long days I've put in. I told the efficiency engineers to get out of my sight and I discharged the decorators. I just brought down Milly the cook and her husband and went to work. When I wanted to have the telephone put in and the manager told me that a week was the first date, I just went around to see him. I looked firm and told him it must be done, and they were ready in twelve hours. As for the lights, I sent over the workmen and watched them and told them how to do it, and when they made a mistake in measuring the distances corrected them. I had my yardstick with me and Milly helped. And the expert movers—well, you ought to have seen them stand around for Milly's husband. He's moved for my mother for years, and there is nothing he doesn't know about that."

Of course it took Hilton Jones some time really to appreciate what had happened. But as the day progressed, after his wife had left him, he found in a hundred different ways signs of the care and forethought of the one who had performed that lightning feat of moving.

That night he handed her a sealed envelope which she opened and read while he went to dress for dinner.

There was a check inclosed for two hundred dollars and the letter read: "Inclosed find check in payment for services rendered as expert mover and efficiency engineer. Will you accept a salaried position on my staff as efficiency expert at a salary of three thousand dollars a year? By your services, which will be largely advisory, you will more than save the concern that amount, if the work you have done within the last two days is any indication of your usual method. It will be greatly to our financial advantage if you will accept this proposition. Will you give me a few minutes, at coffee in the drawing room, to let me explain more fully?"

CARRIES BIG MAIL LOAD

NEW YORK, April 18.—When American liner New York leaves here Wednesday it will have about 13,000 sacks of mail and 2,000 parcels thought to be the largest load of mail ever carried by one of the Holland-American liners to Palmouth and the delay in the sailing of the Mongolia has caused the accumulation.

Twelfth Night

Can you place yourself in a period of some 300 years ago and let your imagination weave a picture of Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night?"

Orsino, the Duke of Illyria, was deeply in love with a beautiful countess, named Olivia. Yet all his love was in vain, for she did not love him. On the death of her brother, Olivia veiled herself and refused to speak to any of her suitors.

One day a ship was wrecked on the Illyrian coast. Among those who reached the shore in safety were the captain and a maid named Viola, who did not appreciate being rescued from the sea since she feared her twin brother, Sebastian, was drowned.

Learning that she was in the country of the duke of Orsino, Viola disguised herself in male attire and sought employment with him as a page. She succeeded in this and day to day listened to Orsino's love for Olivia. At first she sympathized with him, but later grew to love him. Finally Orsino sent Viola (now called Cesario) to woo Olivia for him. Malvolio, Olivia's steward, refused her admittance, but Viola would not accept the denial and was finally ushered into the presence of Olivia. While listening to the bold messenger, Olivia fell in love with him, so that when Cesario had gone, she sent a ring with Malvolio after him. She told Malvolio that Cesario had left the ring behind him. Viola, who knew perfectly well that she did not leave the ring behind her, was very quick to detect that Olivia had fallen in love with her. Soon after this Viola again went to Olivia, but the latter was unable to hide her love for Cesario and openly confessed it. This aroused the jealousy of Sir Andrew Aguecheek, a rejected lover of Olivia, who was staying at her house with her merry uncle, Sir Toby Belch. Sir Toby loved practical jokes; so he told Sir Andrew that he was a coward and that he should send a challenge to Cesario. The challenge frightened Viola very much; trembling, she drew her sword and Sir Andrew in like fear followed her example. An officer of the court arrived just in time to stop the intended duel.

Sebastian, Viola's twin brother in blood and appearance, who had been rescued, now came to Illyria to search for the duke. As he was passing Olivia's house, he met Sir Toby and Sir Andrew, who, mistaking him for Viola, struck him. Olivia came out of the house just in time to stop the duel. That very day Olivia and Sebastian were married. Meanwhile Orsino and Cesario arrived at Olivia's house. Olivia immediately thought Cesario was her husband

NEW TRAIN TO MILWAUKEE AND CHICAGO

Via Chicago & North Western Ry. A new fast modernly equipped train, the Rochester-Mankato Special, is now in service to Milwaukee and Chicago, leaving La Crosse 12:10 a. m. daily, arriving Milwaukee 6:40 a. m., Chicago 9:00 a. m. and reproached him for leaving her so soon after their wedding. Viola denied ever marrying Olivia. Orsino became very angry to think that his page had married the countess he loved. At this moment, too, Sir Aguecheek entered with the bleeding head, complaining that Cesario had struck him. Although Viola protested she had not done it, no one would believe her; suddenly Sebastian entered. Viola rejoiced so much at finding her brother that she confessed that she was his sister. Orsino then said: "Thou shalt be my wife and my fancy's queen."

Thus Viola was made happy. Olivia became a loving wife, and Sebastian a devoted husband. The following are some of the students who will take part in this group of players:

Orsino, the duke, Rudolph Blatter. Sebastian, Cyril Leinfelder. Sir Toby Belch, Marshall Cohen. Sir Andrew Aguecheek, Norman Gruenzner. Malvolio, Wallace Schall. Marie, Eda Capellen. Olivia, Esther Peterson. Viola, Viola Poehling. Antonio, the sea-captain, Edwin Benton.

Festa, the jester, Leslie Bartheld. Valentine, Curio, attendants on duke Wilfred Fiegler, Carl Schubert. Fabian, Olivia's servant, George Webber.

In addition to these characters, there will be many attendants, sailors, lords and ladies in waiting, as well as a group of jesters, who will be the students from Miss Green's and Miss Swift's English classes.

NOT ALL BIBLE OF CONSEQUENCE SAYS E. C. DIXON

That there are certain parts of the Bible which are of little consequence and that if these are dwelt upon there is little light to be obtained was the statement of Rev. E. C. Dixon, pastor of the First Methodist church, who spoke on "The Bible the Word of God," at the Open Forum meeting Sunday afternoon.

"We can truthfully say that the Bible is the word of God," Rev. Dixon said, "because it is apparent that He spoke through the prophets and above all through Jesus Christ. The Bible is not a scientific treatise. It does, however, give us truth which cannot be found in nature or in other great books."

"We do not say that you must accept the Bible because it is infallible and inspired by God, but when we read the book and know it, we say that it is the word of God because what it contains has never been equalled by man, and without divine help could never have been set down."

CONVICT SAYS MAN OF WEALTH KILLED MISSING HEIRESS

PROVIDENCE, R. I., April 18.—Edward Glenoris, an inmate of the Rhode Island state prison, has told the police that he helped to bury the body of Dorothy Arnold, missing New York heiress, after she was murdered, officials said Monday.

Glenoris swore that a plot to dispose of Miss Arnold's body was framed in a Seventh avenue saloon. He swore that a mysterious man possessing great wealth hired him and another man to go to New Rochelle. He was to have received $250 for standing guard while his "pal" disposed of the body.

Girl's Father Scouts Story NEW YORK, April 18.—Francis R. Arnold, father of the missing Dorothy Arnold, said yesterday that he takes no stock in the story of a convict in the state prison that he helped bury his daughter's body.

RIVER GIVES UP BODY AND FOUL PLAY IS SUSPECTED

MILWAUKEE, April 18.—The body of a man carrying a bank book from the Aetna bank, of Chicago, containing the name of Charles Koch, was found by the police in Milwaukee river. That the man was murdered is the belief of the police. His arms and legs were tied with wire and there was a large hole in his skull which may have been made by a bullet, although the body was so badly decomposed, it was impossible to determine for certain. A card was found in the man's clothes giving the name "George J. Seybold, 1854 North Halsted street, Chicago."

CHICAGO, April 18.—That the body found in the Milwaukee river is Charles Koch, 25, is the belief of Martin Engelhardt, a hardware dealer here.

THE SILO

MADISON, Wis., April 18.—According to reports which are coming to officials of the college of agriculture larger acreages will be planted to barley than in any recent year. The indications are that this cereal will be the most popular grain crop to be sown in a number of Wisconsin counties this spring. The world-wide honors won by Wisconsin grown barley, when exhibited at various grain exhibitions, is given as one of the main reasons for the boom. In addition, for the past three years growers have realized from $2 to $5 an acre more from barley than from oats, which has been the most popular of the grains grown in the state.

R. A. Moore, secretary of the Wisconsin Agricultural Experiment association, is the authority for the statement that the production of barley which will command high market prices requires three things: superior seed of one of the pedigreed varieties; fertile soil, preferably a rich clay or silt loam and careful harvesting. Buyers of Wisconsin barley are very insistent on great care at harvesting time.

Beef Cattle Pay Wisconsin farmers are singing that it pays well to raise the grade of beef cattle, which is making certain districts of the state famous. A recent sale of Wisconsin beef on the Milwaukee market furnishes still further proof for this contention. A shipment of steers, raised in southwestern Wisconsin, and fitted at the agricultural experiment station, recently sold in Milwaukee at 10 cents a pound live weight. The top price on the Chicago market for the same date was $9.55. There were included in the shipment representatives of each of the leading beef brands, which are popular with the stockmen of the state.

Badgers Chosen C. V. McCollum and H. C. Taylor of the Wisconsin college of agriculture have been chosen as instructors in the country wide graduate school of agriculture, which is to be held in Amherst, Mass., during the month of July. Held under the auspices of the association of American Agricultural colleges and experiment stations, this is one of the most important annual agricultural gatherings of this country. Dr. McCollum is recognized as one of the leading authorities of this country on animal nutrition. Mr. Taylor will give special work on rural organization and land problems.

Steam Tobacco Beds Large numbers of Wisconsin's leading tobacco growers are fighting plant bed pests by steaming their seed beds before planting. Workers of the agricultural station have given this method thorough trial and have found that steaming is the most successful plan of controlling certain serious tobacco bed diseases. When the growers co-operate the cost of steaming is low, running from 75 cents to $1 per 100 square feet. The steaming prevents diseases like bed rot and root rot from developing, kills weed seeds, produces earlier and more vigorous plants and controls insect pests of the seed bed. The importance of this precaution is seen, when it is known that Wisconsin is one of the leading tobacco producing states. Large acreages are devoted to this crop in Rock, Dane, Green, Vernon, Chippewa and certain of the other counties.

London Buys Cheese A shipment of Wisconsin made cheese was recently made from Richland county to London. The shipment included seventeen car loads of the different brands for which this western county is famous.

Many Pasteurizing The number of Wisconsin butter-makers who pasteurize their cream is increasing. Nearly one-half of the entries in the April butter scoring exhibition, just held at Madison, were made from pasteurized cream. It is hardly to be expected that the proportion of creameries in the state making pasteurized butter is the same as that given in these entries, but there is every indication that the practice of pasteurizing is on the increase, the quality of the butter submitted for this contest was of unusually high grade. Those who received a score of 94 or above were: O. A. Miller, Thiensville; C. W. Page, Elkhorn; Albert Erickson, Avery; F. M. Werner, Waterloo; Akel Matson, Oregon, Ill.

Avoiding Danger at Sea. Electrical apparatus has been invented in England to notify a ship's officer when a steersman is permitting a vessel to deviate from a set course.
